This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

LAWS OF LAWN TENNIS.

THE COURT.

1. The Court is 78 feet long and 27 feet wide. It is divided across the middle by a net, the ends of which are attached to two posts, A and B, standing 3 feet outside of the court on either side. The height of the net is 3 feet 6 inches at the posts, and 3 feet in the middle. At each end of the court, parallel with the net, and 39 feet from it, are drawn the base lines D E and F G, the ends of which are connected by the side lines D F and E G. Halfway between the side lines, and parallel with them, is drawn the half court line I H, dividing the space on each side of the net into two equal parts, the right and left courts. On each side of the net, at a distance of 21 feet from it, and parallel with it, are drawn the service lines K L and M N.

See back pages of Guide for diagram of single and double court.

THE BALLS.

2. The Balls shall measure not less than 2½ inches, nor more than 2 9-16 inches in diameter; and shall weigh not less than 1 15-16 ounces, nor more than 2 ounces.

THE GAME.

3. The choice of sides, and the right to serve in the first game, shall be decided by toss; provided that, if the winner of the toss choose the right to serve, the other player shall have choice of sides, and vice versa, or the winner of the toss may insist upon a choice by his opponent. If one player choose the court, the other may elect not to serve.

4. The players shall stand on opposite sides of the net; the player who first delivers the ball shall be called the server, and the other the striker-out.

5. At the end of the first game the striker-out shall become server, and the server shall become striker-out; and so on alternately in all the subsequent games of the set and following sets.

6. The server shall serve with both feet behind, i. e., further from the net than the base line and within the limits of the imaginary continuation of the centre service and the side lines. It is not a fault if one only of the server's feet do not touch the ground at the moment at which the service is delivered. He shall place both feet upon the ground immediately before serving and shall not take a running nor a walking start. He shall deliver the service from the right and left courts alternately, beginning from the right, in each of his service games even though odds be given or owed.

7. The ball served must drop between the service line, half-court line, and side line of the court, diagonally opposite to that from which it was served.

8. It is a Fault if the ball served drop in the net, or beyond the service line, or out of court, or in the wrong court; or if the server do not stand as directed by law 6. If the server, in attempting to serve, miss the ball altogether, it does not count a fault, but if the ball be touched, no matter how slightly, by the racket, a service is thereby delivered, and the laws governing the service at once apply.

9. A fault cannot be taken.

10. After a fault the server shall serve again from the same court from which he served that fault, unless it was a fault because he served from the wrong court.

11. A fault cannot be claimed after the next service is delivered.

12. The server shall not serve till the striker-out is ready. If the latter attempt to return the service, he shall be deemed ready.

13. A service or fault delivered when the striker-out is not ready counts for nothing.

14. The service shall not be volleyed, that is, taken, before it has touched the ground.

15. A ball is in play on leaving the server's racket, except as provided for in law 8, and remains in play till the stroke is decided.

16. It is a good return, although the ball touch the net; but a service, otherwise good, which touches the net shall count for nothing.

17. The server wins a stroke if the striker-out volley the service, or if he fail to return the service or the ball in play; or if he return the service or the ball in play so that it drops outside of his opponent's court; or if he otherwise lose a stroke, as provided by law 20.

18. The striker-out wins a stroke if the server serve two consecutive faults; or if he fail to return the ball in play; or if he return the ball in play so that it drops outside of his opponent's court; or if he otherwise lose a stroke as provided by law 20.

19. A ball falling on a line is regarded as falling in the court bounded by that line.

20. Either player loses a stroke if the ball touch him, or anything that he wears or carries, except his racket in the act of striking; or if he touch the ball with his racket more than once; or if he touch the net or any of its supports while the ball is in play; or if he volley the ball before it has passed the net.

21. In case a player is obstructed by any accident, not within his control, the ball shall be considered a "let." But when a permanent fixture of the court is the cause of the accident, the point shall be counted. The benches and chairs placed around the court shall be considered permanent fixtures. If, however, a ball in play strike a permanent fixture of the court (other than the net or posts) before it touches the ground, the point is lost; if after it has touched the ground, the point shall be counted.

22. On either player winning his first stroke, the score is called 15 for that player; on either player winning his second stroke, the score is called 30 for that player; on either player winning his third stroke, the score is called 40 for that player; and the fourth stroke won by either player is scored game for that player, except as below. If both players have won three strokes, the score is called deuce; and the next stroke won by either player is scored advantage for that player. If the same player win the next stroke, he wins the game; if he lose the next stroke the score returns to deuce, and so on until one player wins the two strokes immediately following the score of deuce, when game is scored for that player.

23. The player who first wins six games wins the set; except as below: If both players win five games the score is called games all; and the next game won by either player is scored advantage game for that player. If the same player win the next game, he wins the set; if he lose the next game, the score returns to games all; and so on, until either player wins the two games immediately following the score of games all, when he wins the set. But the committee having charge of any tournament may in their discretion modify this rule by the omission of advantage sets.

24. The players shall change sides at the end of the first, third and every subsequent alternate game of each set and at the end of each set, unless the number of games in such set be even. It shall, however, be open to the players by mutual consent and notification to the umpire before the opening of the second game of the match to change sides instead at the end of every set until the odd and concluding set, in which they shall change sides at the end of the first, third and every subsequent alternate game of such set.

* 25. In all contests the play shall be continuous from the first service till the match be concluded; provided, however, that at the end of the third set either player is entitled to a rest, which shall not exceed seven minutes; and provided, further, that in case of an unavoidable accident, not within the control of the contestants, a cessation of play which shall not exceed two minutes may be allowed between points; but this proviso shall be strictly construed, and the privilege never granted for the purpose of allowing a player to recover his strength or wind. The referee in his discretion may at any time postpone the match on account of darkness or condition of the ground or weather. In any case of postponement, the previous score shall hold good. Where the play has ceased for more than an hour, the player who at the cessation thereof

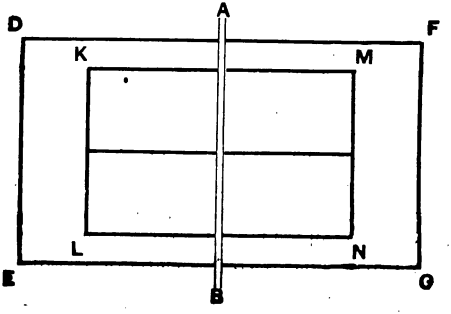
*All matches in which women take part in tournaments held under the auspices of the United States National Lawn Tennis Association shall be the best two in three sets, with a rest not exceeding seven minutes after the second set.

was in the court first chosen shall have the choice of courts on the recommencement of play. He shall stay in the court he chooses for the remainder of the set. The last two sentences of this rule do not apply when the players change every alternate game as provided by law 24.

26. If a player serve out of his turn, the umpire, as soon as the mistake is discovered, shall direct the player to serve who ought to have served. But all strokes scored before such discovery shall be counted. If a game shall have been completed before such discovery, then the service in the next alternate game shall be delivered by the player who did not serve out of his turn, and so on in regular rotation.

27. The above laws shall apply to the three-handed and four-handed games, except as below :—

THE THREE-HANDED AND FOUR-HANDED GAMES.



28. For the three-handed and four-handed games the court shall be 36 feet in width; 4½ feet inside the side lines, and parallel with them, are drawn the service side lines K M and L N. The service lines are not drawn beyond the point at which they meet the service side lines, as shown in the diagram.

29. In the three-handed game, the single player shall serve in every alternate game.

30. In the four-handed game, the pair who have the right to serve in the first game shall decide which partner shall do so; and the opposing pair shall decide in like manner for the second game. The partner of the player who served in the first game shall serve in the third, and the partner of the player who served in the second game shall serve in the fourth, and the same order shall be maintained in all the subsequent games of the set.

31. At the beginning of the next set, either partner of the pair which struck out in the last game of the last set may serve; and the same privilege is given to their opponents in second game of the new set.

32. The players shall take the service alternately throughout the game; a player cannot receive a service delivered to his partner; and the order of service and striking out once established shall not be altered, nor shall the striker-out change courts to receive the service, till the end of the set.

33. It is a fault if the ball served do not drop between the service line, half-court line, and service side line of the court, diagonally opposite to that from which it was served.

34. It is a fault if the ball served do not drop as provided in law 35, or if it touch the server's partner or anything he wears or carries.

CONSTITUTION.

ARTICLE I.

NAME.

This organization shall be known as the "United States National Lawn Tennis Association."

ARTICLE II.

MEMBERS.

SECTION 1. There shall be two classes of members:—

1. Clubs.
2. Associations of Clubs.

SECT. 2. An association of clubs shall consist of five or more individual clubs, any one of which may, or may not, be itself a member of the National Association. But no club shall otherwise be a member of more than one association.

SECT. 3. Every such association shall represent either a stated section of the country, or a stated number of schools and colleges, and in each case its stated limits shall necessarily exclude to that extent the stated limits of every other association.

SECT. 4. Propositions for Membership.— Propositions for membership must be made in writing to the Executive Committee, hereinafter provided for, with the name and address of the applicant, and signed by the Secretary of the club or association making the proposal. Where the applicant is an association, the names and addresses of each of its members shall be given with the application, together with a statement of the limits that it desires to represent; and thereafter such association, if elected, shall notify the Secretary of the National Association of any changes in its membership immediately upon occurrence.

SECT. 5. The Executive Committee shall have full power to pass upon candidates for membership without a general election, except that no association shall be deemed a member whose limits shall conflict with those of other associations until its admittance be confirmed by a two-thirds' vote at the annual meeting of the National Association, or by the consent of the associations upon whose limits it encroaches. The admittance to membership of such an association necessarily decreases the limits of other associations to such an extent as shall preclude a conflict of limits.

No club or association shall be allowed the privileges of a member until its first annual dues have been paid. All dues for the ensuing year shall be payable at the annual meeting.

SECT. 7. Limits of Payments, etc. — Any club or association which shall fail to have paid its annual dues at the expiration of one month after the annual meeting may be debarred from the privileges of a member by the Executive Committee, and, at their discretion, may be dropped from the roll.

SECT. 7. The Treasurer.— The Treasurer shall keep, in a suitable book provided for that purpose, an account of all moneys received and paid. He shall liquidate all bills against the Association, and shall report in writing the state of the finances when required; and, at the annual meeting, he shall present a written report showing all the receipts and expenditures for the year.

SECT. 8. Executive Committee, etc.— It shall be the duty of the Executive Committee to see that the general provisions of the Constitution and By-Laws of this Association are complied with by members of the same; to hear and decide all questions submitted by members for decision, notice of hearing being given to any other member which may be affected by the question; to construe and enforce all the rules of the Association. All decisions of the Executive Committee shall be complied with forthwith; but an appeal therefrom may be taken by any member of the Association at its next annual meeting. 2.—The Officers of the Club holding the Tournament shall have full power over all details concerning said Tournament, but shall be entitled to delegate their power to a Committee. The winner of a Challenge Cup shall be entitled to the possession of the cup until one month previous to the next competition for the cup, possession being conditional on the giving of a bond by the winner satisfactory to the Club. Should the Club give possession without such bond, it shall be liable to the National Association for the value of the cup.

5.—The Committee shall elect a Referee, with power to appoint a substitute to be approved by them. The Referee or his duly appointed substitute must be present at all times when play is in progress.

6.—The Referee or such other member or members of the Committee as may be selected for the purpose, shall have power to appoint Umpires and Linesmen, to assign courts and to start matches, and the Referee shall decide any point of law which an Umpire may profess himself unable to decide, or which may be referred to him on appeal from the decision of an Umpire, and such decision shall be final.

to the competitor, whose misconduct has been reported to them. When the whole of the Committee of a Club or even a quorum thereof may not be available, the members of the Committee that are available shall have power to act in cases left to the Committee of the Club.

9.—It is the duty of an Umpire—

(a) To ascertain that the net is at the right height before the commencement of play, and to measure and adjust the net during play, if asked to do so, or if, in his opinion, its height has altered.

(b) To call the faults (subject to Regulation 10) and lets unless he delegates such power.

(c) To call the strokes when won, or when he is asked to call them, and to record them upon the Umpire's scoring sheet.

(d) To call the games and the sets at the end of each,

---

* Example:

The strokes are scored by means of pencil marks in the spaces beneath the word "STROKES," thus:

Game.	Initials of Players.	STROKES.																		Game won by
1	A. B.	1	1		1		1
	C. D.			1		1
2	C. D.		1		1	1		1			1	1	1
	A. B.	1		1			1		1	1

The Scoring Sheet shows that in the first game the score ran, and would have been called, thus: — "15—love, 30—love, 30—15, 40—15, 40—30, game (A.B.)" In the second game: "Love—15, 15 all, 15—30, 30 all, 40—30, deuce, advantage (C.D.), deuce, advantage (A.B.), deuce, advantage (C.D.), game (C.D.)"

The score of the Server should be called first.

or when asked to call them, and to record them on the Umpire's scoring sheet.

NOTE—At the end of each game the games should be called with the name of the player who is in advance, thus: "2 games to 1, B wins" or, "B leads." If the games are level the score should be called thus, "three games all," or as the case may be. At the end of each set the sets should be called in like manner.

(e) To direct the Competitors to change sides, in accordance with Law 24.

In scoring handicap matches, the odds received should be marked by crosses on the right of the first perpendicular thick line before the commencement of each game, thus:

Game.	Initials of Players.	STROKES.	Game won by
1	A. B.	+
	C. D.
2	C. D.
	A. B.	+ +
3	A. B.	+
	C. D.
4	C. D.
	A. B.	+ +
5	A. B.	+
	C. D.
6	C. D.
	A. B.	+ +

Here A. B. is receiving 15 and 3-sixths of 15.

(f) When appealed to during a rally, whether a doubtful ball is "in play" or not, to call "play," and at the conclusion of the rally to give his decision (subject to Regulation 11) or direct the Competitors to play the stroke again.

(g) To decide all doubtful or disputed strokes, and all points of law (subject to Regulations 10 and 11), and to be responsible for the proper conduct of the match.

When odds are owed, they should be marked on the left of the first thick perpendicular line before the commencement of each game, thus:

Game.	Initials of Players.	Strokes.														Game won by
1	A. B.	1	1
	C. D.
2	C. D.
	A. B.		1
3	A. B.	1	1
	C. D.
4	C. D.
	A. B.		1
5	A. B.		1
	C. D.
6	C. D.
	A. B.		1

(h) In handicap matches to call the odds at the commencement of each set.

(i) To sign the Umpire's scoring sheets, and to deliver them at the conclusion of the match to such person as the Committee may authorize to receive them.

Provided, that no omission of any of the foregoing duties on the part of an Umpire shall of itself invalidate any stroke, game or match.

and should be crossed off one by one when the player owing wins a stroke, thus:

Game.	Initials of Players.	Strokes.	Game won by
1	A. B.	+ +
	C. D.
2	C. D.
	A. B.	+
3	A. B.	+ +
	C. D.
4	C. D.
	A. B.	+
5	A. B.	+
	C. D.
6	C. D.
	A. B.	+

Here A.B. owes 15 and 2-sixths of 15.

10.—It is the duty of the Linesman to call faults and to decide strokes relating to the line or lines to which he is assigned and to said line or lines only, and such decision shall be final. Should the Linesman be unable to give a decision, the Umpire shall decide or shall direct the stroke to be played again.

11. The decision of an Umpire shall be final upon every question of fact, and no competitor may appeal from it; but if an Umpire be in doubt as to a point of law, or if a competitor appeal against his decision on such a point, the Umpire shall submit it to the Referee whose decision shall be final.

NOTE—A question of fact relates to events that actually happened. A question of law is the construction and application of the laws of the game to the admitted facts.

12. The Referee shall not bet on a match nor shall an Umpire or Linesman on the match to which he is assigned. An infraction of this rule shall be followed by the immediate removal of the offending Referee, Umpire or Linesman on the complaint of any competitor.

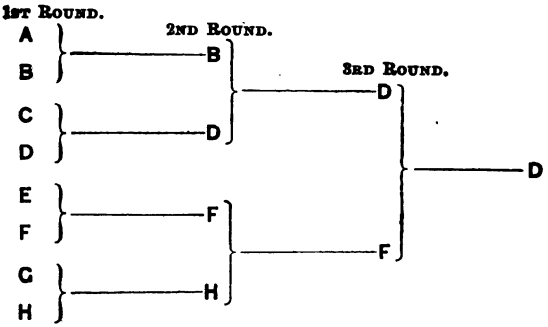
13. No Competitor may transfer his entry to another player.

14.—Competitors shall have a right, by themselves or their deputies, to be present at the draw.

15.—The draw shall be conducted in the following manner: Each Competitor's name shall be written on a separate card or paper, and these shall be placed in a bowl or hat, drawn out one by one at random, and copied on a list in the order in which they have been drawn.*

16.—When the number of Competitors is 4, 8, 16, 32, 64, or any higher power of 2, they shall meet in pairs, in accordance with the system shown by the following diagram:

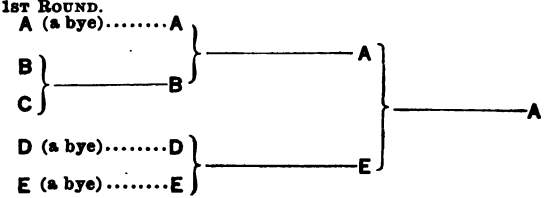
* Except that in Intercollegiate and Interscholastic matches the draw shall be arranged to prevent members of the same school or college from meeting each other in the first and second rounds, the draw in other ways being arranged absolutely by chance.



17.—When the number of Competitors is not a power of 2, there shall be byes in the first round. The number of byes shall be equal to the difference between the number of Competitors and the next higher power of 2, and the number of pairs that shall meet in the first round shall be equal to the difference between the number of Competitors and the next lower power of 2. The byes, if even in number, shall be divided, as the names are drawn, in equal proportions at the top and bottom of the list, above and below the pairs. If uneven in number, there shall be one more bye at the bottom than at the top. Thus—

SERIES 1.

From 5 to 8 Competitors.



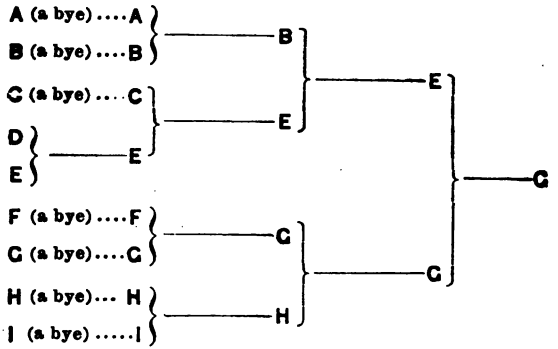
With 6, there will be one bye at the top, and 1 bye at the bottom. With 7, 1 bye at the bottom. With 8, no byes.

Series 2.

From 9 to 16 Competitors.

With 9, 3 byes at the top, and 4 byes at the bottom.

1st Round.

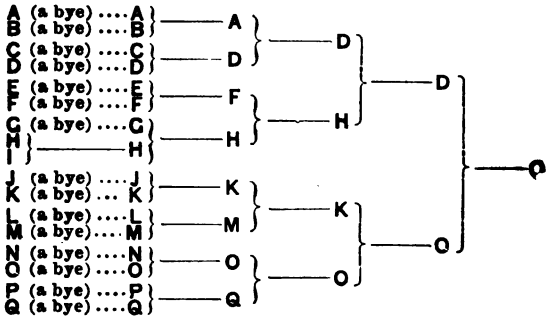


With 10, 3 byes at the top, and 3 at the bottom.
With 11, 2 byes at the top, and 3 at the bottom.
With 12, 2 byes at the top, and 2 at the bottom.
With 13, 1 bye at the top, and 2 at the bottom.
With 14, 1 bye at the top, and 1 at the bottom.
With 15, 1 bye at the bottom.
With 16, no byes.

Series 3.

From 17 to 32 Competitors.

With 17, 7 byes at the top, and 8 byes at the bottom.



With 18, 7 byes at the top, and 7 byes at the bottom.
With 19, 6 byes at the top, and 7 byes at the bottom.
With 20, 6 byes at the top, and 6 byes at the bottom.
With 21, 5 byes at the top, and 6 byes at the bottom.
With 22, 5 byes at the top, and 5 byes at the bottom.
With 23, 4 byes at the top, and 5 byes at the bottom.
With 24, 4 byes at the top, and 4 byes at the bottom.
With 25, 3 byes at the top, and 4 byes at the bottom.
With 26, 3 byes at the top, and 3 byes at the bottom.
With 27, 2 byes at the top, and 3 byes at the bottom.
With 28, 2 byes at the top, and 2 byes at the bottom.
With 29, 1 bye at the top, and 2 byes at the bottom.
With 30, 1 bye at the top, and 1 bye at the bottom.
With 31, 1 bye at the bottom.
With 32, no byes.
And so on with larger numbers in the same manner.

18.—If a Competitor be absent when called upon to play, or shall refuse to play, or shall have given previous notice to the Referee or to a member of the Committee that he cannot play in the next round, his adversary shall win in that round, unless said Competitor shall have been formally excused for a definite period by the Referee.

19.—In handicap matches the competitors shall be handicapped by the Committee, or by a Handicapper appointed by the Committee.

20.—The method of handicapping shall be by classes as below: —

GIVEN ODDS.

Class O — (Scratch).

Class	1	receives	1-sixth of 15.
"	2	"	2-sixths of 15.
"	3	"	3-sixths of 15.
"	4	"	4-sixths of 15.
"	5	"	5-sixths of 15.
"	6	"	15.
"	7	"	15 and 1-sixth of 15.
"	8	"	15 and 2-sixths of 15.
"	9	"	15 and 3-sixths of 15.
"	10	"	15 and 4-sixths of 15.
"	11	"	15 and 5-sixths of 15.
"	12	"	30.
"	13	"	30 and 1-sixth of 15.

"	15	"	30 and 3-sixths of 15.
"	16	"	30 and 4-sixths of 15.
"	17	"	30 and 5-sixths of 15.
"	18	"	40.

When two players in different classes below scratch meet, the superior player shall start from scratch, and the odds received by the inferior player are as shown by the annexed table, No. 1. To use the table, find in the diagonal line of figures the number representing the class of the superior player, then travel along the horizontal column until the vertical column is reached which bears at the top the number of the class of the inferior player. The odds specified at the intersection of the two columns are the odds required.

Example.—If class 3 has to meet class 9, start from the figure 3 in the diagonal line of figures, and look horizontally until the vertical column is reached headed by the figure 9. The odds given at the point of intersection of the two columns (viz., 15 and 1-6 of 15) are the odds required.

When the difference between the best and the worst players entered is great (say more than 30), it is desirable to handicap the best players at owed odds. The players above scratch (i. e., owing odds) should be classified as follows: —

OWED ODDS.

Class	1	owes	1-sixth of 15.
"	2	"	2-sixths of 15.
"	3	"	3-sixths of 15.
"	4	"	4-sixths of 15.
"	5	"	5-sixths of 15.

"	16	"	30 and 4-sixths of 15.
"	17	"	30 and 5-sixths of 15.
"	18	"	40.

HANDICAPS. TABLE No. 1. (Received Odds).

When two players, both in receipt of odds, meet, the player receiving the smaller odds is put back to scratch. The following table shows the point at which the other should then start. The number at the left of the horizontal columns denotes the player who goes back to scratch, those at the head of the vertical columns the player who still receives odds; and the numbers within the columns show the odds to be received by the player whose number stands at the head of the column.

This table has been calculated upon the following data:—

In the case of owed odds—

The average value of ⅛ is .2158
" " " ⅛ " .3929
" " " ⅛ " .5188
" " " ⅛ " .6448
" " " ⅛ " .7975
" " Length of a game is 4.6250 strokes.

In using this table supply throughout the word "owe" before the odds specified.

When the two players in different classes above scratch meet, the inferior player shall start from scratch, and the odds owed by the superior player are as shown by the annexed table, No. 2.

This table is to be used in the same way as the former, the class of the superior player being looked for in the horizontal line of figures at the top, and the class of the inferior player in the diagonal line of figures.

Example.—If class 12 (owe 30) meet class 7 (owe 15 and 1-6 of 15), the former must owe the latter the odds of 4-6 of 15.

21.—In Championship matches and handicaps by classes, as above, advantage sets shall be played throughout.

22.—The Committee may, whether appealed to by any Competitor or not, postpone the meeting or any match or part of a match if, in their opinion, the state of the weather, or of the light, or the condition of the ground, or other circumstances, render it advisable to do so. In cases of postponement, Law 25 must be strictly observed.

Cases and Decisions.

By James Dwight.

THE following Cases and Decisions are intended to meet questions often asked at Tournaments, and also to cover points apparently not provided for in the Laws.

I. A player standing outside the court volleys the ball or catches it in his hand, and claims the stroke because the ball was certainly going out of court.

Decision. — He loses the stroke. It makes no difference where he was standing. The return is presumed good until it strikes the ground outside of the court.

II. A player is struck by the ball served before it has touched the ground, he being outside of the service court. How does it count?

Decision. — The player struck loses the stroke. The service is presumably good until it strikes in the wrong court. A player cannot take the decision upon himself by stopping the ball. If it is going to be a fault, he has only to get out of the way.

III. The service is delivered before the striker-out is ready. He tries to return it and fails. Is he entitled to have it played over again?

Decision. — No. If he attempts to return the service he is deemed ready.

IV. The striker-out calls "Not ready," for a second service. The ball strikes beyond the service line, and the striker-out claims that the fact that he was not ready makes no difference, since a fault cannot be returned, and, therefore, that two faults have been served.

Decision. — The second service goes for nothing. A player cannot call "Not ready," and then have the service count, or not, as suits his interests.

V. A ball having been played over the net bounds back into the court from which it came. The player reaches over the net and plays it before it falls. Has he a right to do so?

Decision. — Yes, provided he does not touch the net. He has a right to play the ball at any time from the moment it crosses the net into his court until it touches the ground a second time.

VI. A ball is played into the net; the player on the other side, thinking that the ball is coming over, strikes at it and hits the net. Who loses the stroke?

Decision. — It is simply a question of fact for the umpire to decide. If the player touched the net while the ball was still in play he loses the stroke.

VII Can a player follow a ball over the net with his racket, provided that he hits the ball on his own side of the net?

Decision. — Yes, the only restrictions are that he shall not volley the ball until it has crossed the net, and that he shall not touch the net or any of its supports.

VIII. A player's racket slips out of his hand and flies into the net. Does he lose the stroke for hitting the net?

Decision. — Yes, if the ball be still in play. It does not matter if the racket be in a player's hand or not.

IX. A player's racket leaves his hand, but meets the ball and returns it over the net. Is it a good return?

Decision. — Yes. There is no law requiring a racket to be in a player's hand when the ball is returned. It would unquestionably be a good return if the racket were held against the ground by a player's feet, and the ball bounded back off of it.

X. A single match is played with a double net and inside posts. A player touches the net beyond the inside posts, and claims that he does not lose the stroke because there should be no net more than three feet outside of the court.

Decision. — He loses the stroke. The net where he touches it is part of the supports of the net. He might, perhaps, have objected to the arrangement of the net before the match.

XI. A player returns the ball, and, finding that he cannot stop himself before reaching the net, jumps over it. Is it a good return?

Decision. — Law 4 requires that "the players shall stand on opposite sides of the net," and therefore the player invading his opponet's court loses the stroke.

XII. A ball passes outside the post of the net and strikes in court. Is it a good return.

Decision. — Yes.

XIII. A ball going out of court hits the top of the post of the net and bounds into the opposite court.

Decision. — It is a good return.

XIV. The service or the ball in play strikes a ball lying in the court. Can it be returned?

Decision. — Yes, if it be clear to the umpire that the right ball is returned.

XV. The server claims that the striker-out must stand in the court. Is this necessary?

Decision. — No. The striker-out can stand wherever he pleases on his own side of the net.

XVI. A bystander gets in the way of a player who fails to return the ball. May he then claim a let?

Decision. — Yes, if, in the umpire's opinion, he was prevented by an accident beyond his control. For instance, if the ropes or the seats are allowed to be so near to the court that a player is interfered with by them, the stroke should not be played again, because the ropes and seats form part of the arrangements of the ground. If, however, a spectator passes in front of those seats, or places a chair nearer than the original line, and so interferes with a player, the stroke should be played again.

XVII. A player is interfered with as above, and the umpire directs the stroke to be played again. The server had previously served a fault. He claims the right to two services.

Decision. — The fault stands. A let does not annul a previous fault.

XVIII. A return hits the umpire, or his chair or stand, the player claims that the ball was going into court.

Decision. — Stroke is lost.

XIX. A player receiving fifteen, serves from the left court. His opponent claims a fault.

Decision. — It is a fault. The service starts from the right court under all circumstances.

XX. At fifteen-all the server by mistake serves from the left court, he wins the stroke and serves again (a fault), the mistake is then discovered. Is he entitled to the previous stroke? From which court should he serve next?

Decision. — The previous stroke stands. A fault cannot be claimed after the next service, good or not, is delivered. The next service should be from the left court, the score being thirty-fifteen, and the server has served one fault.

XXI. A player serves from the wrong court, he loses the stroke, and then claims that it was a fault.

Decision. — If the stroke was played in his first service it is simply a fault, but if he serves twice into the wrong court he has served two faults, and lost the stroke.

XXII. The score is five games all, and the umpire directs the players to play an advantage set. The advantage game has been won, when it is discovered that no advantage sets are to be played. What is to be done?

Decision. — The set is won at the eleventh game. It is no part of the umpire's duty to decide on the conditions of the matches.

XXIII. A player serves. He hears the umpire call, but cannot hear what he says. He knows that the only two things that the umpire should call are "fault" and "let," and that in neither case can the ball be in play. He, therefore, does not return it, only to find that the umpire has called "play." Has he any redress?

Decision. — No.

XXIV. The umpire calls "fault," and then instantly changes and says "play." The striker-out fails to return the ball, and he claims he was prevented by the umpire, and also that the umpire cannot change his decision.

Decision. — The umpire should call a let and the service be taken again.

XXV. A ball drops near a line, the player appeals, and the umpire calls "play." The player misunderstands the call and lets the ball fall. He then claims to have the stroke played again.

Decision. — The stroke stands.

XXVI.—The ball strikes the ground close to a line the scorer scores the stroke against the striker. On appeal to the linesman, the latter decided that the ball was not out. Which decision stands?

Decision. — The scorer has no right to consider a ball out until the linesman has called to that effect, therefore, the decision of the latter must be accepted. The decision of a linesman affecting his own line is final.

XXVII. A return strikes the cord running along the bottom of the net and bounds over. Is it a good return?

Decision. — Yes.

XXVIII. During play a ball is thrown into court, and the ball in play strikes it or a player steps on it. May a let be claimed?

Decision. — Yes.

XXIX. The server's first service strikes his partner. Does he lose the stroke or is it a fault?

Decision. — A fault.

XXX. A player serves a fault and it is then discovered that it is his partner's service. Does the fault stand?

Decision. — Yes.

XXXI. In a four-handed competition one player does not appear in time to play, and his partner claims to be allowed to play single-handed against the opposing pair. May he do so?

Decision. — No.

THE SEASON OF 1907.

THE year has been a most successful one on account of the interest shown in the game and the increasing number of tournaments and club matches, etc. The game has spread very much in the Southern states and in the farther West.

On the other hand we failed to regain the Davis Cup in a year when England did not have her best players available. Also the Championship of the country was a most uninteresting tournament.

A number of the best players were absent and Larned was left to win much as he pleased. As a matter of fact he played very well, and it was a pity there was no one to make him play his best.

WILLIAM A. LARNED
Champion of the United States

THE CHAMPIONSHIPS.

THE entries numbered 115 as against 117 last year. Alexander and Hackett were among the most important of the absentees, but there remained B. C. Wright, Larned, Little, Hobart, Behr, Le Roy, Mollenhauer, Anderson, Johnson, Westfall, Palmer and others. Yet in a day the whole tournament fell to pieces. Little was detained by business. Wright did not appear, Behr lost to Palmer.

In the top half, Larned won easily one match after another, beating I. C. Wright, C. E. Sands, Westfall and Hobart. He played consistently well and probably could have played better, had there been any need of it.

In the next quarter Johnson beat Anderson and lost to Hobart after a hard match, which took all five sets.

In the top of the lower half Mollenhauer came out to the Semi-final. He had two hard matches, both with southern men. He lost a set back to Cowan Rodgers and to Russ.

In the fourth quarter Palmer, after he had beaten Behr, lost a set to Pell and won from Niles after a very long match, to meet Le Roy in the Semi-final. Le Roy had a very easy draw and when he met Palmer, he beat him, 6-0, 6-2, 6-2.

In the Semi-final he met Mollenhauer and won after a very hard match, of which more later. In the Final Larned was too good for him and won easily.

Clothier was too lame to defend the Championship. To take the tournament a little more in detail. The first round brought 13 defaults, not so very many considering the number of entries. The only match of great importance was between Behr and Palmer, and was supposed to be a certainty for Behr. He lost the first set, 6-3, and won the second and third, 6-4, lost the fourth, 6-2, and the last set, 8-6. He did not do himself justice, but Palmer played very well indeed.

Hobart beat Slocum, but he lost the first set.

In the second round I. C. Wright beat F. C. Colston three sets to one. Gross put out Dabney in three sets. Anderson beat H. C. Johnson in a five-set match. Niles beat Tallant, but he lost the first (a love) set and the fourth.

In the third round Larned beat I. C. Wright very easily. Hobart beat Register. W. F. Johnson beat Gross in three sets, the first being, 11-9. Mollenhauer lost one set to Cowan Rodgers. Palmer beat Clarence Pell and Niles beat Ames.

In the fourth round Larned and Hobart both won easily. Johnson beat Anderson, 3-1. Palmer beat Niles in a long five-set match in which there were three vantage sets. Niles was not in condition to do himself full justice.

In the fifth round Larned beat Westfall very easily. Hobart had a hard match with W. F. Johnson. Hobart won the first and second sets, but he lost the next two at 5-7 each. The last one he took 6-2. In the lower half Mollenhauer beat Russ, 6-4, 11-9, 5-7, 6-4; a very hard fought match. Le Roy beat Palmer, 6-0, 6-2, 6-2.

Larned beat Hobart in the Semi-final without difficulty, 6-2, 6-2 6-1. He was so distinctly the better player that Hobart never had a chance. In the other match Mollenhauer apparently had Le Roy beaten. He won the first set, 6-4, and lost the second by the same score. Then he won the third with the loss of only one game and reached 5-2 in the fourth set. Four or five times he was within a stroke of the match, and after Le Roy had brought the score to games-all, Mollenhauer won the vantage game. That was his last success and Le Roy won three games and the set, 8-6. The score was now two-sets all, but the match was over for Mollenhauer apparently made no effort to win and lost the fifth set, 6-0.

The Final went to Larned easily. Le Roy played very well and pluckily, but be was out-classed. Larned lost the first game and then won four in which Le Roy got only three strokes. Le Roy won the sixth game, but Larned won the seventh and eighth both at deuce and the set, 6-2; 31 strokes to 18.

In the second set Larned won the first three games with the loss of three strokes, lost the fourth and fifth, and won the next three all at deuce, 6-2; 37 strokes to 26.

Le Roy won four of the first five games, and Larned won all the others in a row, two being at deuce.

Wallace Johnson won the Interscholastic Championship, beating Sweetzer in the Final, 7-5, 6-3, 7-9, 7-5.

HAROLD H. HACKETT AND FRED B. ALEXANDER

Champions in Doubles of the United States

THE DOUBLES CHAMPIONSHIP.

East vs. West and West vs. South.

The Doubles Championships were played this year for the first time in three sections. The East at Longwood, the West at Chicago, and the South at Atlanta. The matches between the winners of the three tournaments were played at the Crescent A. C.

East vs. West.

The first match was between Alexander and Hackett, the Western winners, and Clothier and Larned, the Eastern loosers. The latter won the first game and the fourth, losing the second and third. They also took the seventh, but lost the next two and the set, 6-3. The second set was still more one-sided. Alexander and Hackett won six games, no one of which was deuce. They lost only seven strokes in the set.

Alexander stood at 2-0, 3-1, 4-2 in the third set, but Clothier and Larned won the next two games, making the score four all, and giving the match an eveness which it had not had. It was their last effort, for they did not get a point in either of the next two games.

Alexander and Hackett won 18 games to 8; 91 strokes to 55. The games were won with very little regard to the service.

West vs. South.

Grant and Thornton were no match for Alexander and Hackett. They got two games in the first set and brought two others to deuce. In the second set they won the first game only, though three other games were at deuce. In the last set they won the fourth game. The score was 6-2, 6-1, 6-1—18 games to 4, and 89 strokes to 53. They won only half as many games as Clothier and Larned, but they won almost the same number of strokes, 53 to 55.

As Wright had already played in the Eastern Doubles there was no Championship pair to defend the title, and Alexander and Hackett took the Championship.

INTERNATIONAL MATCHES FOR DAVIS CUP, 1907.

FOR the third time the U. S. N. L. T. A. decided to send a team to England to compete for the Davis Cup which was won by England in 1904, the English team being R. F. and H. L. Doherty with H. S. Mahoney (since having died) as a substitute.

The American team finally selected, was composed of but two players, Beals C. Wright acting as captain and Karl H. Behr. Wright was the experienced member of the team, having crossed on the two previous occasions and having won the Singles championship in 1905 and the Doubles in 1904, 1905 and 1906. Behr had been practically unheard of in the tennis world until 1906, when he showed exceptional form winning many tournaments. His best performances were at Longwood and Newport. At Longwood he beat Clothier rather easily and at Newport disposed of Larned in three straight sets. His athletic experience at Yale gave him the necessary stamina for match play, consequently America was as well represented as in former years.

Our international committee decided that in order for the team to attain the best results, invitation tournaments shonld be held and the best players invited.

This was done, and with excellent results, as after Wright and Behr had played at Merion, Manheim, Westchester, Ardsley, Knollwood and Crescent Athletic Club against all the leading players in both Singles and Doubles they were in the best of condition although not at the top of their game as this could hardly be expected so early in the season.

The team sailed from Boston June 11 arriving in London, June 19. They were met by the officers of the English association and given a hearty welcome. No time was lost as next day they were practising at Wimbledon, where the English courts are located and championship is played.

Wright and Behr were made members of Queens Club for a month. This afforded a pleasant change and also the privilege of playing against a professional who played a strong game.

Unfortunately, England was not represented by their strongest team, as neither H. L. or R. F. Doherty or Smith were in the game. It was therefore practically a foregone conclusion that either Australia or America (the only two challengers) would beat the holders under these conditions.

The Australians were represented by Norman Brookes, A. F. Wilding, Sharpe and Doust. Brookes and Wilding, however, were far superior to the others and played both Singles and Doubles. In 1905 Wright had beaten Brookes twice and Wilding once. Brookes was challenger the same year for the English Championship and in 1907 had improved a great deal. Wilding graduated from Cambridge University, returned to Australia for a short time, but came back early and played in all the English tournaments as well as those on the continent and with remarkable success, losing but one or two.

After three weeks of conscientious practice and training the teams were drawn to see who could play against each other. Five matches were to be played, four Singles and one Double. Wright was drawn to play Brookes first and Behr to play Wilding. The match between the two captains, as expected was a struggle for the net and a battle of services. Wright started serving and each won their service games until four-all was called when Brookes captured his opponents by two sharp volleys and by a net of Wright's after two well played points. Brookes won his own service and the set, 6-4. The second set was a repetition of the first although the play was much faster as they were not as careful or cautious. Brookes won, 6-4 and the last set, 6-2. Wright tried to worry Brookes by changing pace and lobbing more frequently but the Australian was too sure.

After the Brookes-Wright match Wilding and Behr took the centre court. Behr started by brilliant dashing play at the net, and sharp cross court shots; he won the set, 6-1. This did not bother Wilding as he was more aggressive and by keeping Behr from the net and using the reverse service to good advantage he won, 6-3. In the third set both players were struggling for the net and consequently won their service games. When two-all was called Behr won his opponent's service. The next two games also went against the service and gave Behr a commanding lead of 5-3 which he took advantage of and won, 6-3. With two sets to one against him Wilding began to vary his game as the straight hard game seemed to be to Behr's liking. The change proved successful as he won the set, 7-5. In the final set both players were keyed to the highest pitch as it meant much for both to win, as the Doubles were in doubt, and Wright was expected to beat Wilding. By several brilliant drives and a good service Behr led three games to two, but just here a change came. Behr became fatigued and Wilding's wonderful endurance won him the match as Behr did not get another game, although he was determined and not for an instant gave up hopes. The match lasted two hours.

The Doubles were scheduled for the second day's play and it looked rather dubious for America with two matches down. This fact, however, seemed to make them play with more determination, or as the English writer of "Lawn Tennis and Badminton" puts it: "Our American friends have, however, so often in the past shown a great capacity for playing up in similar difficult positions, and consequently we were not surprised when they once more proved their splendid worth and tenacious grit in facing a difficult situation. In fact, so close did they go that if even in the end they failed to win, yet they went as near as it is perhaps possible to do without being returned the actual winners."

The Doubles were gruelling from beginning to end, and took the entire five sets. Behr was slow to start while Wright played an accurate steady game being the mainstay for his side until Behr got on his game, the last two sets, which the Americans won with ease, 6-2, 6-3. The Australians were weak overhead, Brookes weak off the ground and they covered the court poorly but were strong at the net, and their services excellent. The Americans were more evenly matched and their tactics superior.

With two matches to one against them, Wright and Behr were more encouraged, and in the first match on the final day when Wright beat Wilding three sets to one great excitement prevailed, especially among the American spectators who were numerous and greatly interested. Wright won his match by out manœuvering his opponent. Wilding was better off the ground but he was given few of these shots for Wright with varied length and speed kept him running about. The heat affected both players more or less, but not enough to prevent them following up the service on every occasion. It had been decided that if a match was not finished in the centre court by 4.30 the second match would be played on No. 2 court outside the grand stand, to be continued on the grand stand court immediately after the first match was finished. This happened in the Brookes-Behr match and when they entered the court, much to the surprise of all, the score stood one set love for Behr. The change did not seem to be to Behr's liking as he lost the next three sets, ending America's chances for the Davis cup.

The Scores:

AUSTRALIA VS. BRITISH ISLES.

THE Challenge Round between Australia and England was closer than was anticipated as both Australia and America were supposed to be far better than England.

Brookes beat Gore in the first match rather easily. This was the natural outcome as they have met with the same result several times before, Gore's back court game not being good enough to overcome the brilliant net play of Brookes.

Wilding, in his match with Barrett, began poorly losing the first set, 6-1, but after he got well set he was never headed, and by better all-round generalship won by 3 sets to 1. This gave Australia a commanding lead, but like America, England won the Doubles after a most exciting 5-set match. The playing of Barrett at the net and Gore's accuracy from the back court made a good combination. The Australians were weak overhead and their team work was poor. The latter is also a great handicap in a close Doubles match as there is a hesitancy to play many shots by both players.

On the third day Gore unexpectedly won from Wilding, 3-6, 6-3, 7-5, 6-2; and Brookes continued his brilliant playing winning from Barrett very handily, 6-2, 6-0, 6-3.

England was satisfied with the result as they expected to be badly beaten considering their best players (the Dohertys and Smith) were not representing them. In playing Gore, Wilding made a great mistake trying to play him from the back line from which position Gore excels. He changed his methods later, but it was too late.

The Scores:

N. E. Brookes (Australia) beat A. W. Gore (British Isles), 7-5, 6-1, 7-5.

A. F. Wilding (Australia) beat H. Roper Barrett (British Isles), 1-6, 6-4, 6-3, 7-5.

A. W. Gore and H. Roper Barrett (British Isles) beat A. F. Wilding and N. E. Brookes (Australia), 3-6, 4-6, 7-5, 6-2, 13-11.

Brookes beat Barrett, 6-2, 6-0, 6-3.

Gore beat Wilding, 3-6, 6-3, 7-5, 6-2.

WOMEN'S NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP.

THE twenty-first annual tournament for the Championship of the United States, in Women's Singles, Doubles and Mixed Doubles, was held, as usual, on the courts of the Philadelphia Cricket Club at St. Martin's, during the last week in June. There was a record-breaking entry list, with forty contestants in the Women's Singles, fifteen pairs in the Women's Doubles, twenty pairs in the Mixed Doubles, and thirty in the Invitation Men's Singles.

The weather interfered somewhat with the playing of the matches on schedule time, as it rained on the afternoons of the 26th and the 29th, but otherwise the matches were run off smoothly and the excellent Championship courts of the club were in their usual fine condition, and only seemed to improve as a result of the showers. It was particularly unfortunate that it rained on Saturday afternoon, for this was the time set for the Finals in the various events, which always bring out a very large gallery.

In the first two rounds the only match of importance was that in which Miss Marie Weimer, of Washington, defeated Miss Claire Kulp, of Trenton, by the unexpectedly easy score of 6-3, 6-1. In the other matches the results were in accordance with expectations, and the experts had easy victories.

In the Third Round, however, several important matches were played, and at least one upset was recorded. This was the match in which Miss Carrie B. Neely, of Cincinnati, defeated Mrs. Barger-Wallach, of Newport. In the first set Miss Neely had things all her own way, as Mrs. Barger-Wallach did not seem to be able to get started. But in the second set the Newport Champion played with all her accustomed skill and resourcefulness, and carried it off after eighteen hard-fought games. The strain was too much for Mrs. Wallach, however, and Miss Neely, playing her usual consistent and careful game, won the set and the match, 6-2, 8-10, 6-4. The other important matches of this round were those in which Miss Evelyn Sears, of Boston, and Miss Phyllis Green and Miss Rachel Harlan, both of Philadelphia, defeated, respectively, Miss Marie Wagner, of New York, Miss Marie Weimer, of Washington, and Miss Edna Wildey, of Plainfield, N. J.

In the Fourth Round the leading match was that in which Miss Neely defeated Miss Harlan by the score of 2-6, 6-4, 6-3. Miss Harlan's game is hard to beat, as she always plays safe and depends for victory upon her opponent's error. Her tactics seemed to bother Miss Neely at the start, and the Philadelphia Champion won the first set without difficulty. In the second and third sets, however, Miss Neely cleverly changed her sytle of play, and resorting to the same methods that Miss Harlan was using, she finally won out. The style of game to which both players resorted made the match very long drawn out, and was productive of anything but good tennis. Both players were exhausted before the match was over.

MISS EVELYN SEARS
Lady Champion of the United States

In the Semi-Finals, Miss Sears had an easy victory over Mrs. G. L. Chapman, of New York, but Miss Neely had great difficulty in disposing of Mrs. W. H. Pouch, of Englewood, N. J. Mrs. Pouch has shown a splendid return to her old-time form, and played a strong all-around game during the tournament. She had Miss Neely constantly in difficulty, and it was only by the latter's superior endurance that she finally won out, 8-6, 7-5.

The Finals brought out a struggle between the East and the West, in the persons of Miss Sears and Miss Neely. The result was never in doubt after the first three games. These were rapidly won by Miss Neely, the Boston Champion seeming nervous and afraid to take any chances. At this point, however, Miss Sears settled down to her game, and thereafter she had Miss Neely completely at her mercy. The Western expert is an earnest, tireless player, with an evenly developed game, and is especially clever at the net, running in with judgment, and smashing with strength and accuracy. She has, moreover, the great advantage of long experience as a tournament player. Miss Sears, on the other hand, plays a game that is much more limited and open to criticism. Her game is very much like that of Mrs. Barger-Wallach, though Miss Sears is unquestionably the stronger player of the two. Her success as a tournament player rests upon two points, first, remarkable getting ability, and second, a strong hard forehand drive, which she brings off frequently from difficult positions, and always with splendid length and accuracy. It was by this stroke that she won the Championship title, for as soon as she learned that by it she could keep Miss Neely from the net, the final match was practically won. The Champion does not come into the net herself at all, and her backhand stroke is surprisingly weak. Miss Neely's clever generalship led her to take every advantage of these weaknesses, but as soon as the Western player found herself falling behind, she made the mistake of running in too frequently, in the hope of a chance to kill, and Miss Sears having herself by that time well in hand, passed her opponent easily, from all parts of the court.

The former Champion, Mrs. Marshall McLean (Miss Helen H. Homans) did not defend her title, which, therefore, went to Miss Sears, by default.

In the Women's Doubles, the noteworthy event was the splendid showing of the Misses Edna and Natalie Wildey, of Plainfield, N. J., who made their initial bow in important tournament play. They came through to the Final Round, where they met Miss Neely, of Chicago, and Miss Weimer, of Washington, who have together, and individually, been the winners of many a hard-fought match. In the first set the Misses Wildey showed signs of nervousness, and lost, 6-1, but in the second, by clever team work and the most brilliant net play that has been seen on the St. Martin's courts in a women's match, they overwhelmed their opponents, and won out by the score of six games to two. In the Final set the skill and experience of the Westen and Southern combination told, and the match went to Miss Neely and Miss Weimer, 6-1, 2-6, 6-4.

The entries in the Mixed Doubles were not quite up to the usual standard in this event, and the title went to Miss May Sayres and Wallace F. Johnson, of Philadelphia, without any very serious opposition. Here, again, however, Miss Natalie Wildey distinguished herself, going through, with her partner, to the Final Round. The fine showing of the Misses Wildey, who had been hitherto unknown in tournament play, should be a great encouragement to the younger players to enter in this event.

The extra event in Men's Singles brought out a large number of well-known tournament players, and resulted in many close and hard-fought matches. The most interesting was that in which J. R. Carpenter, Jr., who had just won the Pennsylvania State Championship, met N. W. Niles, who had just lost the Challenge match for the Massachusetts State Championship. Nile's peculiar service bothered Carpenter for some time, and the first set was carried on for eighteen games. When Carpenter, however, had solved its puzzling bound, he ran through Niles without much difficulty, and won the second set by six games to three.

Aside from the two days of rain, which necessitated carrying the tournament over until the following week, the National Championships were a great success. The increasing interest in tennis was clearly shown by the large number of entries and by the large and interested gallery which came out each day to watch the matches.

LONGWOOD OPEN TOURNAMENT.

AS usual the annual Longwood tournament which is played on the club's beautiful turf courts numbering over fifteen, brought forth the highest ranked players from all sections of the country. The weather was ideal for good play and encouraged by a large and enthusiastic tennis gathering of both sexes, the week was a great success.

The unforeseen happened which is necessary to add a bit of excitement to any event. It was that W. J. Clothier, Champion of the year was beaten by F. C. Colston in a close well-played 5-set match. Otherwise there were no serious upsets, except that Hobart defaulted to Larned in the Challenge Round, thus giving Larned the third leg on the bowl and permanent possession of same. This action naturally grieved the Longwood committee to see their beautiful bowl carried away unfought for, but it seems Hobart does not approve of the holder standing out, consequently he remained satisfied with the title of winning the Finals.

The best match of the Third Round was that between LeRoy and Sulloway. These players had met often, principally defending their college honors, Columbia and Harvard, and had always split about even. They are both good off the ground with LeRoy superior at the net, and this is what won him the match by 3 sets to 1.

In the Fourth Round Colston won his first big match by beating Clothier 3 sets to 2. Colston deserved to win as he played an aggressive, dashing, but at the same time accurate game from the start. Clothier's weakest point was his service which Colston made many aces on.

Wylie C. Grant also showed good form and won from C. B. Neel 3 sets to 1. Neel, a few years ago, was one of the leading players being unusually aggressive and persistent.

In the Fifth Round with 2 sets to 1 against him, R. D. Little won from Colston who was playing as well as in the previous round. Little's experience and aggressiveness won him the match. After losing the first set by being very erratic, Hobart beat Seaver in a long drawn out base line match, and had no trouble winning from Hallowell in the Semi-Finals, although LeRoy unexpectedly defeated Little 3 sets to 1. It is only fair to say that Little had had a trying week, and as the weather was hot each day, it effected his game more or less. In the Final Round a close contest was looked for, but much to the disappointment of a large gathering LeRoy was in poor form, being a bit over-anxious and lost 3-6, 6 2, 6-1, 6-2. Larned won the Challenge Round and third leg on the bowl by Hobart s default.

EASTERN DOUBLES.

THE Eastern Doubles, which is played the same time as the Singles at Longwood, kept up its past records by being the largest and having the best entries of any other Doubles tournament. At the beginning Beals C. Wright and R. D. Little or W. J. Clothier and W. A. Larned were picked as the ultimate winners and the choice was correct as Clothier and Larned won, thus giving them the privilege of playing the winners of the West, Hackett and Alexander, and the winners of the South at the Crescent Athletic Club. The winners of this event became champions as Ward and Wright three-time winners defaulted.

The best teams were well separated in the drawings, and it was not until the second round that an important match was played. This was between the Johnson Bros. and the Whitman Bros. The teams were evenly matched and played the same style game all fighting for the net and all with weak services. The Johnsons won by better volleying.

NEW ENGLAND CHAMPIONSHIP.

THE New England Championship, which took place on the clay courts of the Hartford Golf Club at Hartford, Conn., June 15, is one of the oldest tournaments now held, dating back to 1886, the first tournament taking place at New Haven on that date and continuing up to 1900, when it was transferred to its present location.

The tournament of the present year was most interesting from start to finish. The final matches, played on Saturday before a large and interesting audience, were well contested, particularly the Singles between Pell and Westfall, the former winning after a well and hard played five-set match.

LAWN TENNIS IN SOUTH.

CHAMPIONSHIP OF THE SOUTH, 1907.

PLAYED for the second time in Atlanta on the beautiful dirt courts of the Atlanta Athletic Club, the tournament drew from the States of Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, Ohio, Indiana, Louisiana, South Carolina and Georgia, players who have been coming year after year to this meet to compete for the Southern Championship. From the far West came Hence Orme of Indianapolis, Dr. Little and Hugh Bates were present from Cincinnati and the doctor came very near capturing the $300 silver mug, which was won by Nat Thornton, who won first prize at the Gulf States Meet at New Orleans, and who also won the South Atlantic States meet at Augusta, Ga.

This young man was only defeated at one Southern tournament this season, and if he keeps up his game this year, the writer would not, be at all surprised to see him ranked in the first ten when Col. Al Hoskins and his assistants get together and rank the players for the 1908 season.

Day of Nashville showed up well, and so did Cowan Rodgers. The former was beaten by Thornton after he lead by one set and five love. In the second round Cowan Rodgers lost to Dr. Little, after having defeated him the week before at the Tennessee State Championship, and Little was put out by Thornton in the Semi-finals, after one of the closest matches ever pulled off in this section.

Little and Bates, Rodgers brothers, Norton and Cornelius and Grant and Thornton were the favorites in the Doubles. Rodger brothers defeated Bates and Little and met Grant and Thornton in the Challenge Round, losing in straight sets.

Miss May Logan of New Orleans again won the Ladies' Singles, defeating her club mate, Miss Minor in the Challenge Round. Miss Logan and her brother, Blan Logan, captured the Mixed Doubles; and the Gentlemen's Consolation Singles went to C. Y. Smith, who defeated L. D. Scott in the Final Round.

This tournament for 1908 will draw more entries than ever before, and the Athletic Club will be in a better shape to entertain the visitors, having just completed a $50,000 club house at their country grounds, six miles from Atlanta.

TENNESSEE STATE TOURNAMENT.

The Tennessee State Championship was played on the courts of the Nashville Tennis Club, June 24 and following days. Cowan Rodgers of Nashville regained the Championship, playing winning tennis all through the tournament. When he reached the Finals he met a worthy opponent in J. F. Day, who played him a hard five-set match. As Reuben Hunt, winner of last year's tournament, was not present to defend his title it went to Rodgers.

The Doubles was rather a surprise as it was figured that last year's champions, the Rodgers brothers, would continue to hold the title, but the good playing of Day and Farrell proved too much for them and won the match by the scores of 1-6, 6-3, 8-6, 6-4.

GEORGIA STATE TOURNAMENT.

The Georgia State Championship, which took place on the courts of the Log Cabin Club, Macon, the week of July 8, proved a most interesting event.

This prediction proved true, for both men did meet and Taylor was the victor in three straight sets, when he met Dr. Little of Cincinnati in the Challenge Round and was defeated in a four-set match, 6-4, 4-6, 6-4, 6-3.

GULF STATES CHAMPIONSHIPS.

The seventh annual tournament for the Gulf States Championships, held May 27, 28, 29, 30 and 31, on the turf courts of the New Orleans Lawn Tennis Club, proved to be an unusually large gathering of local talent with the foreign visitors conspicuous by their absence. The home club furnished, as usual, the largest number of entries, but the other local organizations were well represented both in quantity and quality and made a better record of victories than in former years.

Esmond Phelps, the N. O. L. T. C. Champion, justified the predictions of his admirers and captured first honors in the open Singles with but the loss of a single set. M. N. Smith, his clubmate, was the man to spoil the clean score when he put up a game fight in the finals, the play being even closer that the score would indicate. Phelps, however, was just a little stronger in every department of the game and clearly deserved first honors.

Rain fell on the night before the Championship Round and the event was contested on a soggy court that made fast and accurate play well nigh impossible. Thornton of the Atlanta Athletic Club, the holder of the title, was in fine form and the conditions considered, played splendid tennis. Phelps, on the other hand, seemed off his game, failing to kill his short lobs and appearing unable to keep the ball away from the middle of the net. Thornton took the net on every occasion and when once there seemed unbeatable. His victory in straight sets was foreshadowed early in the contest.

The Doubles tournament furnished no surprises until the challenge match was reached. Logan and Phelps were easily the best, winning first honors without the loss of a set. When Grant and Thornton of Atlanta, Champions of 1905 and 1906, appeared to defend their title it was pretty well conceded that the cups would this year become their permanent property. Even after two sets had gone against them and it was evident thatt he Champions were in poor form, the talent still looked for a grand rally that would turn the tide of battle. In the third set, which they won, they gave glimpses of their old form and might have improved still further had not rain forced a cessation of hostilities. The resumption of play on the following morning found them in the ragged form of the opening set and after scoring one game they lost the next six and with them the match and the Championship. Logan and Phelps performed consistently throughout the contest. They were steady and patient to a remarkable degree. Both lobbed accurately, Logan, perhaps, excelling in this feature, while Phelps' overhead play was particularly effective.

EAST JERSEY LAWN TENNIS ASSOCIATION.

THE fourth annual open tournament of the East Jersey Lawn Tennis Association for the East Jersey Association Cup and other events was again held upon the courts of the Elizabeth Town and Country Club, Elizabeth, N. J., on August 27 and following days finishing on Labor Day, September 2, 1907.

The entry list, seventy-one in the Association Cup Singles was larger than in the previous years, and included all of the crack players in the metropolitan district. On account of the National tournament at Newport overlapping owing to bad weather several of the cracks playing at Newport were compelled to default or this year's tournament as to entires and class of playing would have broken all records.

Despite such drawbacks including rain upon the forenoon of Labor Day, the interest in the various events reflected great credit upon the association both as to the manner of running off matches, bringing the tournament to a close upon the final day and in many minor ways handling the five events together, there being such a long entry list as the following scores will show.

The East Jersey Association has made its reputation, however, from the consistent manner in which its tournaments have always been held. The players following the circuit and the press also referred frequently to the efficient way in which umpires, and linesmen have been provided for each of the lines in all the principal matches, including the women's events; hence the players feel assured that the disagreeable features of tournament play, where these officials are not provided, will not come up to bother them.

Pursuant to the announcement made the previous year, the Challenge Round this year was abandoned and the winner of the tournament obtained a leg upon the cup and hereafter does not stand out but must again play through in order to obtain another leg. This is in accordance with the views of a considerable number of players and now furnishes discussion as to whether the new or the old way produces the fairest competition.

The ladies' events proved a greater attraction and this year the committee added the Women's Singles in which there were nineteen entries. The hospitality of the home club members displayed during tennis week is such that players who follow the circuit can well afford to bear this tournament in mind and look forward to the pleasure of playing at Elizabeth.

Edward P. Larned, younger brother of the National Champion, playing consistently through the tournament scored a well-earned victory over Carlton C. Kelley in the Finals in a hard-fought five-set match, 4-6, 4-6, 6-1, 6-4, 6-1; and added his name to those of F. G. Anderson and K. H. Behr who also have won legs upon the Challenge Cup.

In the Men's Doubles there were over thirty teams entered and W. B. Cragin, Jr., playing with Miles S. Charlock, won this event with the loss of only one set.

The Women's Singles was won by Mrs. William H. Pouch, the former National Champion, after a hard three-set match with Miss Marie Wagner. The scores were. 6-1, 0-6, 6-1.

The Mixed Doubles were won by Mrs. B. C. Edgar and Mr. Lindsay Dunham, 2-6, 6-2, 6-2 from Miss Johnson and W. F. Johnson.

WENTWORTH TOURNAMENT.

THE twenty-sixth annual Wentworth tournament began July 30 and continued throughout the week.

The weather was of the best for tennis, which lasted the entire week, with a good entry list. There were many players from the York Country Club, York Harbor and Rye Beach, and visitors from neighboring summer resorts. A tennis dance and other entertainments were given for the players by guests of the hotel during the week.

Arthur Sweetzer, the Harvard Interscholastic Champion, had the honor of winning the tournament. He played steadily during the entire week. He had some close matches especially in the Finals, which went to five sets, but he always managed by forcing his opponent at critical times to win out.

The gallery was large and enthusiastic each day.

The upset of the tournament was in the Doubles, when Irving Wright and Cresson were beaten by Sweetzer and Niles in three close sets, 4-6, 7-5, 8-6. In the Semi-final round of the Singles, Colston beat Cresson, 6-4, 9-11, 6-2 in a well-played match. Both players were aggressive, and it was not until Cresson stayed away from the net that Colston took the lead.

In the Final round of the Doubles, S. L. Beals and Scott beat Sweetzer and Niles, 6-8, 6-3, 6-3, 6-4. The players were all evenly matched, but the winner's play was superior and they made but few errors.

LONG ISLAND TOURNAMENT.

THE 1907 season in the Metropolitan district was opened by a revival of the Long Island Championship on the dirt courts of the Kings County Tennis Club in Brooklyn. A new $300 Challenge Cup was donated and this is to be won three times, not necessarily consecutively, beforebe coming the property of the winner. The tournament was most successful although the weather put a damper on many a hardened enthusiast. Naturally at the beginning of the season surprises were looked for and several "came off." Chief among these were the defeat of H. H. Hackett by Jos. T. McMahon and the defeat of H. L. Westfall by H. S. Roberts. The tournament was run with clock-like precision and considering the number of entries, 63 in Singles and 11 teams of Doubles, the fact that both Finals were played on the Saturday following the opening of the tournament on Tuesday, speaks volumes for the committee handling the tournament. The Semi-Finals and Finals produced some sterling tennis, close contests, and many gruelling sets. Those reaching the Semi-Finals in Singles were between I. C. Wright and F. G. Anderson and H. Mollenhauer and W. C. Grant. The former contest went to vantage sets each set and Wright finally proved the victor at 7-5, 10-8. Grant secured a love set from Mollenhauer hut was beaten, 6-4, 0-6, 6-3. In the Final Mollenhauer ran the first two sets to 8-6 before succumbing and then drew away and won a set at 6-2, only to be beaten in the fourth set by Wright, at 6-3. It was a contest worthy of the two fighters who contended as both players are known for their bull-dog tenacity and that never-say-die spirit so essential to success in any sport. Wright thus gained the first leg on the new cup.

LAWN TENNIS IN THE WEST.

LAWN TENNIS IN AND ABOUT CHICAGO.

The Western tennis season of 1907 was an unusually successful one, and in the Chicago district, especially the game was put on a firmer bases than ever before, and the increased interest on the part of the public in the game was never before so much in evidence. There were disappointments, it is true, chief of which was the passing from the tennis world of Kreigh Collins and the temporary retirement of Heath Byford—the star and sensation of 1906. But these losses were, in a measure, forgotten in the joy that was felt over the return to the game of the veteran, Carr Neel. Neel made his first appearance on Chicago courts in eight years in the Illinois Championship at the Aztec Club, and by the most brilliant kind of work, ran through the tournament and then took the Championship away from L. Harry Waidner in the Challenge Round. His work in the big Western Championship that followed was also of the highest class, and his great win over Wallace Johnson of Philadelphia in this event proved that he had not gone back much.

The season of 1907 opened up early in the spring with a warm fight in the Western Association for the honor of holding the big Western tennis classic. Hitherto the Kenwood Country Club had held a sort of monopoly on the holding of this event, and the Western Association had become badly disorganized. But last year a change came, and when the influential Onwentsia Club of Lake Forest applied for the tournament, a warm fight was immediately precipitated. Lines were tightly drawn and a great battle followed—a fight that ended finally with the awarding of the event to Onwentsia. These tournament controversies tend surely and unmistakably for the good of the game as is evidenced by the fact that enthusiasm is running higher than ever before in and around Chicago.

The tournaments of last year led off, as usual, with the Illinois State tournament at the Aztec Club. And this event held its own nobly—bringing out as it did—some of the best playing of the entire year. In the men's events Carr Neel was the one big star and his re-appearance brought out scores of the old tennis lovers to watch the games. In the women's events another surprise was in store for the spectators, when Mrs. Robert Williams of the Aztec Club signalized her entrance into the Championship class by running through to the finals in easy style where she all but beat Miss Carrie B. Neely.

Following the Illinois event came the annual open tournament of the Wanderers' Cricket and Athletic Club, one of the pleasantest, as well as best events on the Western schedule. The tournament brought out much good play and was finally won by Heath Byford, who defeated Charlie Peters in the Challenge Round, by default.

And then came the Western. The event was held on the beautiful courts of the Onwentsia Club, twenty-eight miles north of Chicago's limits, and although a little inaccessible to Chicago lovers of the game, it drew a great gallery, nevertheless. The tournament was a huge success in every way, although some disappointment was felt in the easy way in which Hackett and Alexander, the Easterners, made off with the Doubles. In the women's events the sensation was once again found in the playing of Mrs. Williams, the youthful Aztec player, who surprised even her most ardent admirers by the great game she exhibited—a game that earned for her the title of "the May Sutton of the West." She failed, however, in the Final Round, where she was out-witted more than out-played by the veteran woman champion, Miss Carrie B. Neely, who, after years of striving, finally took away the premier honors.

This tournament closed the open tournaments in the Chicago district and the leading players treaded to other fields.

In the Chicago Tennis League a most successful year was had, the Kenwood Country Club team ultimately winning out after an exciting race and thereby annexing, for good and all, the big Chicago Tennis League trophy—its teams having captured it twice before.

But the most encouraging feature perhaps, of the tennis year, was the number of clubs that "got into" the game—all of the leading clubs finding it necessary to increase the number of their tennis courts—so great was the interest shown. This feature coupled with the successful establishment of a Women's Tennis League, marked more than anything else the tennis season of 1907.

WANDERERS' CRICKET AND ATHLETIC CLUB OPEN TOURNAMENT.

The annual open tournament of the Wanderers' Cricket and Athletic Club, of Chicago,—sandwiched in as it is between the Illinois and Western events—proved of exceptional interest last year, and the entry list was almost up to the standard of the two larger events. In the Singles the tournament drew its usual record-breaking entry and seventy-two players entered for the contest, while in the Doubles sixteen teams started in the first Round.

For the event the Wanderers' officials set aside the beautiful turf of the cricket crease, and by means of constant rolling and good care the club boasted the finest tournament courts in the West by the time play started. There has always been an element in the Wanderers' Club that discouraged the holding of a tennis tournament—the diversity of interests having always threatened to weaken the enthusiasm for tennis. But this year the event was such a great success in every way and the club was so unquestionably benefited by the holding of it that it is thought all the opposing faction will hereafter recognize the importance attached to the club's big annual event.

The interest in the Men's Doubles was greatly enhanced by the appearance of the veterans Carr, Neel, and W. Scott Bond in the tournament, and while they failed to win, their work was very praiseworthy and showed that all they lacked was hard tournament experience. In the Singles no matches of interest were played in the First Round, but in the second the meeting of T. P. Goodbody and Lawrence Burford and of Charles S. Peters and William Wilkins brought out the fastest kind of play, and both matches went the full three sets before a winner was returned. The final match in Doubles between Hayes and Peters and Byford and Gardner all four men were in great form, but the former team's superior team play and greater steadiness was telling and, although all of the sets were well-played and hard-fought, Hayes and Peters managed to win out in four sets, the final score being 6-8, 7-5, 6-4, 6-2.

THE CHICAGO TENNIS LEAGUE.

The season in the Chicago Tennis League was an unusually successful one and more interest was shown in the matches than ever before. Beginning its season early in June and having a late finish in September, the interest never once diminished and large galleries were always present at the matches.

A new club—the Evanston Country Club—entered the league last year, and while their showing was poor they are expecting to put a great team in the field this coming year. The fight soon narrowed down to a three-cornered one between the Kenwood, Aztec and Wanderers' Clubs —the first named finally winning out. This victory by Kenwood gives it permanent possession of the big Chicago Tennis League trophy, it having won it twice previously.

The standing of the clubs follow:

	Won	Lost
Kenwood Country Club	35	8
Aztec Tennis Club	23	22
University of Chicago	23	22
Wanderers' Cricket Club	22	23
River Forest Tennis Club	18	26

THE WESTERN INTERCOLLEGIATE CHAMPIONSHIP.

The first tournament of importance in the Western states—the annual Western Intercollegiate—was held on the clay courts of the University of Chicago on May 27 and following days, while the tournament was a disappointment in many ways—notably the small number of entries—it was a great success in many others and drew more attention than any western event in recent years. Five of the great western universities were represented in the tournament and a sixth—Northwestern—was entered but forced to withdraw before the commencement of play. The chief absentee was the University of Michigan, always a prominent factor in previous years—an absence made necessary by the ban placed upon it by the Western Conference colleges.

The victories of Chicago in both the Singles and the Doubles gives that institution five points towards the necessary seven to gain permanent possession of the trophy—three points having been scored by her in previous years. The only other college holding a "leg" on the trophy is Cornell College (Iowa) which won one point in 1906 by virtue of the victory of Walter T. Hayes of that school.

The Scores:

THE WESTERN INTERSCHOLASTIC CHAMPIONSHIP.

The annual tournament for Western Interscholastic Championship was played on the clay courts of the University of Chicago on June 7 and following days. The tournament was the largest event of its kind ever held in the West and drew a record-breaking list of entrants, although the quality of play can hardly be said to have been up to the standard of former events. Modisette and Coleman, two boys from the East High School of Cleveland, made the trip from that city especially to compete in the event, thereby making a new record for long distance entries and at the same time broadening the scope of the tournament.

The championship in Singles was won by Adams of the Evanston Township High School, who defeated Modisette of East High School, Cleveland, in the Final Round, 1-6, 6-2, 6-3, 6-4.

In the Doubles Moore and Adams of Evanston were victorious, defeating Toy and Kinfield of Morgan Park Academy in the Final Round, 6-3, 6-2, 4-6, 3-6, 6-1.

This tournament is held under the auspices of the University of Chicago, it having been renewed in 1905 after an abandonment of several years.

Hunt, William Scudder, Norris Mundy, Ford Carter and others. No Easterners were rated, although several participated in the Western tournaments.

THE WESTERN CHAMPIONSHIPS.

THE twentieth annual tournament for the Championship of the West was played on the turf courts of the Onwentsia Club of Lake Forest, Ill., during the week of July 27 to August 3, and resulted in one of the greatest tournaments ever held in the West.

Nearly every section of the country was represented and the East once more was entered in the lists. Harold H. Hackett, Fred B. Alexander and Wallace F. Johnson were the eastern representatives, while the northwest was out with its best talent in the persons of Ward C. Burton and Louis Northrop.

Ideal tennis weather prevailed throughout the week, and the tournament was run off on schedule time—a remarkable feat for a club having but eight courts. The Onwentsia Club itself is by far the finest country club in the West, and the advantages it offered far excelled anything ever connected with a western tournament before. The hospitality of its members, together with their royal entertaining, conspired to make the week an unusually pleasant one for tennis lovers, and the galleries were exceptionally large at each day's play. The courts were in excellent condition, the turf being closely cut and rolled each day.

The match between Waidner and Alexander the crowd was treated to fiasco that brought a whole lot of unpleasant criticism on Alexander, who, after winning two straight sets in remarkably easy fashion, suddenly announced his determination to default, and the earnest pleadings of Waidner and the committee in charge failed utterly to change this decision, and the afternoon's programe was consequently sadly interfered with.

In the Men's Doubles, to which the greatest importance was attached, owing to its relation to the National event at Newport, four teams stood out prominently as contenders for first honors, and all of the four teams were successful in winning their way into the Semi-finals. In the upper half the "luck o' the draw" brought Alexander and Hackett against Waidner and Neel in the Semi-final Round, while in the lower Emerson and John C. Neely were pitted against Hayes and Peters.

The match between Hackett and Alexander and Waidner and Neel was a keen disappointment to Western enthusiasts, as neither Waidner or Neel showed the form that had been expected of them. Alexander and Hackett, on the contrary, played an almost unbeatable game, and it is hard to figure how any of the great teams in their palmiest days could have defeated this Eastern team on that particular day. No shot seemed too difficult for them and their perfect, flawless team-work brought out round after round of applause. Alexander especially was right on edge and his various serves and his general ability to drive from any angle and from any position puzzled the Chicago team often. The team work of Waidner and Neel was almost correspondingly poor, and they showed lack of practice together noticeably. In each of the three sets the Westerners managed to annex two games, but that was the best tl ey could do, and they lost out in easy style, 6-2, 6-2, 6-2.

In the other Semi-final Emerson and Neely sustained great difficulty in defeating Hayes and Peters—the match going four long sets before the former team scored a win.

The result of these matches placed Emerson and Neely against Hackett and Alexander in the Final Round, and another easy victory for the New Yorkers followed. Emerson and Neely both played well—and even brilliantly in places—but the grand Eastern team work was too much for them and they succumbed after four sets, 6-0, 4-6, 6-1, 6-1. The easy victories of Hackett and Alexander were keenly regretted, and once more the Western title goes East.

WOMEN'S CHAMPIONSHIP.

In the women's events a strong entry list was secured and the quality of play as a whole was the best shown by women players in the West for years. The fight in the women's Singles soon narrowed down, as had been expected, to a four-cornered contest between Miss Carrie B. Neely and Miss Marie Wimer in the upper half and Miss Miriam Steever and Mrs. Robert Williams in the lower.

The Finals between Miss Neely and Mrs. Williams again showed some great tennis, and for a time it looked as though the young Aztec player would hold her rival even. But once more the greater experience of Miss Neely told and she won out in straight sets, 7-5l 6-4, chiefly through her determined and successful efforts to play Mrs. Williams' back-hand constantly. The defeat of Mrs. Williams by Miss Neely, and the default of the title by Mrs. R. B. Neff gives Miss Neely her first Western Championship, although she has come very near to winning it on numerous other occasions.

The Women's Doubles were taken by Misses Steever and Neely, who defeated Mrs. Williams and Miss Wimer in the Final Round. The Mixed Double title went to Miss Steever and Dr. A. O. Lee.

ENGLEWOOD TOURNAMENT.

THE Englewood Field Club open tournament, which took place at Englewood, N. J., during the week of July 15, proved to be one of the most interesting tournaments held in or about New York City during the tennis season of 1907. There was a good entry list of players who were high ranked as shown by the well-contested matches throughout the tournament.

Fred G. Anderson won the tournament by defeating his club mate Henry Mollenhauer, after a well-played four-set match. The Doubles were won by Irving Wright and Henry Torrance, defeating Dewhurst and Bates in three straight sets. The Ladies' Singles was won by Mrs. Pouch, defeating Miss Rotch, and the Mixed Doubles by Miss Wagner and Mr. Mollenhauer.

MANILA ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION
Manila, Philippine Islands

LAWN TENNIS PHILIPPINE ISLANDS.

LAWN tennis is already beginning to get a good foothold in the Philippine Islands as last year a very successful tournament was held at Manila. It was won by Major Bethel (whose picture is marked with a cross) who began playing some years ago in the east. The Manila Athletic Association is very flourishing and the officers take a keen interest in their club.

VEDADO TENNIS CLUB OF HABANA.

THE Vedado Tennis Club of Habana was founded in June, 1902, with about 30 members and two macadamized courts sanded and clayed. It has now about 110 members and three courts of the same kind. The difference between members and number of courts is explained by the fact that the club has a baseball and a football team and goes in also for track and field athletics.

The first tournament was held on Christmas, 1902, and the Finals were decided in January, 1903. Since then the club has held two tournaments every year, one on Christmas and one in June. The June tournament is generally a handicap one, and on Christmas the Championship of Cuba is played for. The entries are for Men's Singles, Ladies' Singles, Men's Doubles, Ladies' Doubles and Mixed Doubles. The number of the entries in the Singles has varied from 9 to 25; in the Doubles from 6 to 14. For these series the club offers fine cups. The tournaments have been held according to the rules of the National Lawn Tennis Association of the United States. This year we have taken steps to ascertain whether we could not be admitted to that association, but nothing has yet been decided on this matter.

The following is a list of the Champions of Cuba:

Singles.

1903, Mr. Ygnacio Zayas; 1904, Mr. Miquel Morales; 1905, Mr. Ygnacio Zayas; 1906, Mr. Francis E. Howland; 1907, Mr. Ygnacio Zayas.

Men's Doubles.

1903, Mr. Y. Zayas and Mr. A. Goudie; 1904, Mr. A. Luarez and Mr. M. Morales; 1905, Mr. Y. Zayas and Mr. A. Goudie; 1906, Mr. Y. Zayas and Mr. A. Goudie; 1907, Mr. Y. Zayas and Mr. A Goudie.

LAWN TENNIS IN SOUTH AMERICA.

MORE than to any other reason, tennis may trace its right to its undisputed title of "the most universally played game in the world" to the reluctancy of our English cousins to give up their play when they go abroad to work, and South America, in common with all the outposts of British political or commercial empire, furnishes many cases in point. Buenos Ayres, very aptly called the "Paris of the southern hemisphere," is, perhaps, the most active tennis center, a circumstance due directly to the fact that 40,000 out of its 1,200,000 of inhabitants, are English born. Some tennis is played among the French and Germans, both of whom outnumber the English, and several promising players have appeared who are native Argentinos; but the highest class of play is always to be seen upon the courts of the Buenos Ayres Tennis Club, the Hurlingham Country Club, and on those of the clubs of the picturesque suburbs of Belgrano, Quilmes, Flores and Lanus, all English organizations. The American population of the city, being largely of a "floating" nature, lacks social cohesiveness, and is therefore not directly represented in the tennis world.

The Argentine championships are played off annually in May, on the unusually fast and attractive courts of the Buenos Ayres Club. The entry lists, both in the Men's and Women's events, are invariably large, and the standard of play fairly high. Stanley Knight of Rozairo, who has held the Singles Championship for a number of years, stands in a class by himself among the local men, and it is generally believed he will take rank somewhere in the first ten English players, as it is his intention to play in the "home" tournaments the coming summer. Messrs. Shaw and Kidd of Belgrano, and Anderson and Dorning of Hurlingham, well known as cricketers, are also players of considerable ability.

In addition to the Championship event, regular monthly tournaments, both scratch and handicap, are held by the various clubs, while a constant series of inter-club matches is kept up throughout the year.

Tennis in Brazil is rather backward on account of the climate, and the best play is to be seen in Rio, Santos and Santa Paulo. In Rio the best players are men connected with the foreign legations and consulates, though for several years the Champion of the capital was a young Brazilian who had learned the game in Paris.

The Chileans, physically are the finest race in South America, and in their love of out-of-door sports vie fairly with the English. Santiago has several tennis clubs composed entirely of native members, and similar organizations are in existence in Concepcion, Talca and Chillan. The home of tennis in Chile, however, is to be found at the atractive country club of Vina del Mar, the beautiful surbub of Valparaiso. Here the Championship events are played, and in this vicinity are to be found the best players in the country, several of the most prominent of these latter being Germans.

The club at Iquique, the great nitrate port of northern Chile, furnishes perhaps the best example of tennis enthusiasm to be found in the world. This remarkable city is situated in an absolutely railless belt, well within the tropics, as a consequence of which water is so scarce as to give rise to the saying that "people drink champagne in Iquique because water is too expensive." In spite of this fact, enough of the one, or the other, is obtained to keep a tennis court in good condition, and to slack the thirst of a very energetic lot of enthusiasts who turn out at four o'clock every day for their evening game.

Uruguayan tennis is more or less intimately associated with that of Argentina, and teams trained on several of the very excellent courts in Montevideo have regularly proved factors to be reckoned with in the Argentine championships.

In Peru and Bolivia, American civil and mining engineers have had a good deal to do with introducing tennis at various scattered and unlikely points, and one finds better tennis in some of the remote camps than in the capitals or ports. Conditions for the game are ideal in Bogota, the Columbian capital, where a moderate altitute minimizes tropic lassitude and puts plenty of real snap and go into the play. The principal devotees of tennis there are members of the diplomatic corps, and one of the most skillful and enthusiastic of these was our late minister, the Hon. John Barret.

Caracas, 3,000 feet of altitude makes tennis possible the year round in the picturesque Venezuelan capital and not a little friendly rivalry exists in the foreign colony regarding the winning of the not infrequent tournaments. Mr. Henry P. Almond, the genial manager of the La Guiria-Caracas railroad, is the father of out-door sport in Venezuela, and on his day, a hard man to beat on the courts. Georgetown, British Guiana, has several tennis clubs and a number of really excellent players, the best of the latter, probably the governor's private secretary, Mr. George Ball-Greene, a relative of the famous Irish player of the same name.

T. B. CHAPMAN
Yokohama Japan Champion

LAWN TENNIS IN JAPAN.

IT might be of interest to the readers of the Guide to learn that tennis is about the most popular sport in Japan. In Yokohama there is a beautiful club situated on the Bluff with seven grass courts as good as the best in this country, and four dirt courts. The winters are so warm makes the courts ready for play at all times. The Yokohama Athletic and Cricket Club also have a number of fine turf courts.

The Championship of 1907 was won by T. B. Chapman of Boston U. S. A., who defeated J. S. Nicholl also of Boston, in a close 5-set match. The Doubles were won by Mollison and Colchester, both Englishmen. The competition in club matches is keen and during these competitions a arge and enthusiastic gallery go to see the matches.

On December first the Yokohama Club played the Tokio Tennis Club a team match defeating them eight games to two. There are a few good Japanese players the best being M. Yamasaki of Tokio. No doubt in a few years there will be a Japanese challenge for the Davis cup as the Japanese are quick to pick up and become expert at a sport.

THE OLD DOMINION TOURNAMENT.

THE Old Dominion tournament took place June 24 on the courts of the Hermitage Golf Club, Richmond, Va. The tennis played throughout the week was of the best. The surprise of the tournament was the defeat of H. G. Whitehead of Norfolk, holder of the State Championship of Virginia by C. TORONTO VS. BUFFALO.

AT Niagara-on-the-Lake, Canada, July 2, the first of the inter-city matches, between players representing Detroit, Buffalo, Rochester and Toronto clubs, began on the grass courts of the Niagara Golf and Tennis Club at this place. As Rochester and Detroit were not represented, Buffalo and Toronto faced each other across the nets with the following results:

Howard Bissell, who had wrested the Buffalo City Championship from Kirkover on the preceding Saturday, could make no headway against Baird, and was disposed of in straight sets. It took Burns somewhat longer to win over Kirkover, who played with his usual obstinate courage against the strong Canadian crack, taking the second set in 6-3, and making a determined battle up to the last point scored. In the Doubles Baird and Burns of Toronto, after losing the first set to Bissell and McLaughlin, rallied strongly, and won the next two sets with comparative ease. Carroll and Kirkover scored the only win for Buffalo for the day, defeating Routh and McMaster in an impressive manner.

The Scores:

Men's Singles.

Baird (Toronto) beat Bissell (Buffalo), 6-2, 6-3; Burns (Toronto) beat Kirkover (Buffalo), 6-4, 3-6, 6-4; Glassco (Toronto) beat Wagner (Buffalo), by default; Hall (Toronto) beat McLaughlin (Buffalo), 6-2, 4-6, 8-6; McMaster (Toronto) beat Cutler (Buffalo), 6-2, 6-3; Routh (Toronto) beat Carroll (Buffalo), 6-3, 4-6, 6-4; Dingman (Toronto) beat Busman (Buffalo), 6-3, 6-3.

Men's Doubles.

Baird and Burns (Toronto) beat Bissell and McLaughlin (Buffalo), 3-6, 6-3, 6-4; Carroll and Kirkover (Buffalo) beat Routh and McMaster (Toronto), 6-3, 6-4.

On the second day the general tournament began. The feature of the day's play was the match between Burns and Glassco, the Ontario champions, and Bissell and McLaughlin of Buffalo. The Canadians won, but only after the hardest kind of a battle, the Buffalonians stubbornly contesting every point and losing after they had pulled out the second set by 6-4.

The work of the younger players, especially Carroll, Rebadow, and Smith of Buffalo, and Dineen, Spanner and Goldstein of Toronto, was remarkably good, and plainly indicates that these youngsters will be heard from in coming events. The victory of Burns and Glassco left that team to fight it out with Kirkover and Wagner of Buffalo on the following day.

The Scores.

Open Singles.

Burns (Toronto) beat Field, 6-3, 8-6; McLaughlin (Buffalo) beat Bissell (Buffalo), 6-3, 6-3; Wagner (Buffalo) beat Hall, 6-2, 6-0; Carroll (Buffalo) beat Goldie (Toronto), 6-3, 7-5; Glassco (Toronto) beat Crangle (Buffalo), 6-2, 6-1.

Handicap Singles.

Crangle (Buffalo) beat Routh (Toronto), 6-2, 4-6, 6-3; Rebadow beat Burns (Toronto), 6-2, 6-1; Cutler beat Field, 6-0, 6-3; Carroll (Buffalo) beat Spanner (Toronto), 7-5, 6-4.

Men's Doubles.

Burns and Glassco beat Cutler and Busman (Buffalo), 6-3, 6-4; Bissell and McLaughlin beat Dineen and Spanner (Toronto), 6-3, 6-3; Hall and Routh beat Field and Cutler (Buffalo), 8-6, 6-3; Wagner and Kirkover beat Rebadow and Smith, 6-4, 7-5; Burns and Glassco beat Bissell and McLaughlin (Buffalo), 6-4, 4-6, 6-3; Wagner and Kirkover beat Hall and Routh (Toronto), 6-2, 6-2.

July 4 the most exciting play occurred in the Doubles Finals between Kirkover and Wagner of Buffalo, and Burns and Glassco of Toronto. Once again the Canadians showed their superiority over the men from Buffalo, although the latter made a most creditable stand against Ontario cracks.

In the Singles Wagner beat Glassco in straight sets, but suffered defeat at the hands of Burns in a four-set match.

The Scores:

Open Singles.

Glassco beat Carroll, 6-2, 4-6, 6-4; Wagner beat Glassco, 6-3, 6-4; Burns beat Wagner, 6-3, 6-4, 3-6, 6-2.

Final Doubles.

Burns and Glassco beat Kirkover and Wagner, 4-6, 6-3, 6-4, 8-6.

Harry D. Kirkover of Buffalo was elected president of the Niagara Golf and Tennis Club for the year 1908.

PACIFIC NORTHWEST CHAMPIONSHIP.

THE seventeenth annual tournament for the championship of the Pacific Northwest was held on the courts of the Tacoma Lawn Tennis Club, August 6 and the following days, and proved to be the largest tournament ever held in the Pacific Northwest, there being sixty-eight entries in the Men's Singles, and thirty-two entries in the Men's Doubles, together with one of the largest entry lists in the Mixed and Ladies' events in the history of the club's organization.

Nor was it alone the number of entries which made this meeting the best ever held on the Coast, for in addition to quality, all the best men in this section were present with the exception of Schwengers of Victoria, Russell of Seattle, and Goss of Portland.

But to make up for the loss of these men we were fortunate in having with us a number of California entries, among whom were Reuben G. Hunt, Crawford and Miss Hazel Hotchkiss. This was the first time that Miss Hotchkiss has ever played in this territory and her playing was a rare treat to all those who saw her play, her overhead work being particularly good.

The matches were started Tuesday on the clay courts which were absolutely perfect and with the weather conditions ideal, as luck would have it when the tournament was the largest in seventeen years. For the first time in seventeen years rain fell tennis week, but in spite of the showers on Wednesday and Saturday the tournament committee brought every event off on time, and no one was overworked.

The draw in the Men's Singles brought McBurney, Payne (last year's holder) Ballinger and Armstrong together in the upper half, and Tyler (runner up last year) Wickersham, Hunt, Crawford and Pooley in the lower half.

In the upper half Armstrong disposed of Ballinger in a close match, but was in turn put out by McBurney after a hard struggle, 6-4, 11-9, McBurney showing his lack of condition and practice and from the game shown by him in this match it was expected that Payne would take him into camp easily, but contrary to expectations McBurney won easily, Payne having the first off day he has ever shown in tournament play on the Coast. This brought McBurney without the loss of a set into the Finals against Tyler, who had come through the lower half rather easily, defeating Pooley, Hunt and Crawford, who had defeated Wickersham, with the loss of but one set.

The Finals between Tyler and McBurney brought out the best Singles by far in the tournament, both players being very aggressive and the match proved to be a fight for the net position. Tyler started off with a rush and before McBurney warmed up had tucked away the first set 6-3. This seemed to rouse McBurney and using his deadly backhand he forced Tyler to rear of the court and keeping the net himself took the next two sets, 8-6, 6-4, and a lead of 4-1 in the fourth set, when the effort seemed to tell on him, as he was not in the best condition. Tyler seeing his chance at once forced matters taking five games straight and the set making two sets all, the last set went to Tyler 6-0, McBurney not being able to get his form again.

In the Men's Doubles four teams came through to the Semi-finals that were thought to be evenly matched, but Tyler and Wickersham disposed of Hunt and Crawford easily 6-4, 6-2, and Payne and Armstrong did the same with McBurney and Ballinger, 6-3, 6-4, putting them in the Finals of the Doubles, which proved to be the best match of the tournament.

Tyler and Wickersham directed their attack entirely on Armstrong, while Wickersham received the largest burden on his side. Armstrong, however, was playing the game of his life, and his opponents were unable to tire him out or to break up the excellent team work of the Tacoma pair, and after a desperate struggle in which the winners pulled the last set out of the fire when the score stood 5-1 against them, Payne and Armstrong brought back the Tacoma cups to their original home.

The Ladies' Singles was won handily by Miss Hotchkiss, although Miss Hall gave her a scare in the Semi-finals, and Miss Ryan, the last year's Champion, made her use all her skill in the Finals, the match being much closer than the score shows.

The Ladies' Doubles was won by Miss Ryan and Miss Hall, who defeated Miss Hotchkiss and Miss Robertson in a long struggle, the first set going to deuce six times, but the better balanced team finally won and took the second set rather easily.

The Mixed Doubles was won by Miss Ryan and Mr. Tyler who defeated Miss Hotchkiss and Mr. Crawford in the Finals in a very evenly contested match, Miss Ryan again proving herself to be Miss Hotchkiss' equal in the Double game.

WESTERN PENNSYLVANIA TENNIS TOURNAMENT.

THE nineteenth open tennis tournament for the Championship of Western Pennsylvania in Singles was held on the grounds of the Pittsburg Golf Club, commencing Saturday, July 6, and following days.

The tournament was a great success in every particular and was attended by large and enthusiatsic audiences. It was especially noticeable that the younger players were making fast strides forward to take the place of some of the older players. The winner of the tournament and Championship, Mr. W. L. Myers, came from Chicago some five years ago. He came within one point of losing his match in the first round to E. Sunstein, as the score was 6-4, 5-4 and 40-30 against him, but he won the next point by a beautiful back-hand pass and finally pulled out the set 9-7 and the next one 6-4.

Mr. G. D. Edwards ,who held the Championship some six years ago, was defeated by P. D. Siverd, the Yale Inter-Scholastic Champion, by a score of 4-6, 6-4 and 7-5 in the Semi-finals. It looked like a sure win for Edwards as they were one set apiece and five games to one in favor of Edwards on the third set and he needed but one point twice to give him the win, but Siverd played a remarkably steady game and finally pulled out the set 7-5, due mainly to his superior staying qualities.

Mr. C. L. Childs, who two years ago held the Championship, was obliged to default in his second match on account of a sprained ankle.

In the Finals Myers defeated Siverd by using good head work and playing to his young opponent's weak points.

In the Championship Round Myers defeated Dr. T. W. Stephens, holder of the Cup, by a score of 6-2, 6-3 and 6-4, as Stephens was unable to get his fast passing forehand stroke under control and Myers kept his opponent constantly on the run.

NEW YORK LAWN TENNIS CLUB TOURNAMENT.

Again it was rather a surprise in Doubles that Grant and Westfall were defeated by Pell and Le Roy in the Semi-finals, although the latter team defeated Wright and Leonard the following day when they were in turn defeated in the Challange round by Hackett and Allen in a well contested match of four sets. The victory gives Hackett and Allen permanent possession of the Felipe Cups.

THE METROPOLITAN CHAMPIONSHIP.

THE Metropolitan Championship tournament was held at the West Side Tennis Club on June 8 and the following days. It had the largest entry list of any tournament ever held around New York, and over twenty ranking men played in the Singles Championship.

R. D. Little (W. S. T. C.) won two even matches from Mollenhauer and F. G. Anderson. In the first match he lost the first set, 6 to love, as he had not yet struck his gait, barely pulled out the second set, but won the third with ease.

In his match with Anderson (K. C. T. C.) he lost the first set and was within one point of losing the match. It was his serve, he made one fault, and when Anderson stepped up to drive the second serve Little suddenly smashed the service down the center line for a clean ace and then pulled out a win.

In the final match for the Championship, Little, who had won the tournament, lost the first two sets, won the third, and succumbed in the fourth to F. B. Alexander, the holder, who made his third successive win, thus gaining outright the cup, having on it the names of R. D. Little, Holcombe Ward twice, and H. H. Hackett, his present partner in the National Double Championship. E. P. Fisher won the former Metropolitan Cup.

In the doubles, Hackett and Alexander had a "walk-over," practically winning at will from Grant and Westfall in the finals whom they utterly outclassed.

In the Ladies' Singles, Miss Bessie Moore, (W. S. T. C.) won after two very severe matches in which the final set was deuce. Mollenhauer (K. C. T. C.) and Miss Wagner (Hamilton Grange T. C.) won the mixed Double Championship. Ross Burchard (W. S. T. C.) won the Handicap Singles. G. M. Bodman (W. S. T. C.), Carl Behr's former double partner at Yale, won the Consolation Singles.

Rain on two days lengthened the tournaments out, but as a whole, it was one of the most successful tournaments ever given in the vicinity of New York on dirt courts.

THE NEW ENGLAND INTERCOLLEGIATE LAWN TENNIS ASSOCIATION.

Officers for 1907-1908

President, W. C. While (Wesleyan).
Vice-President, T. K. Thompson (Williams).
Secretary and Treasurer, S. L. Wolff (Amherst).

Intercollegiate Championship.

THE eighth annual tournament of the New England Intercollegiate Tennis Association was held on the courts of the Longwood Cricket Club, Boston, Mass. Play which was to have begun on the twenty-seventh of May was delayed until the twenty-eighth owing to rain. The players representing the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, were very successful and carried off the honors in both Singles and Doubles, bringing their total number of points on the eight-point cup up to six, even with Williams.

Play in the Singles matches was the most interesting, the best matches being the Larned-White match in the Semi-final Round and the Budlong-Larned match in the Final Round. Though in the former match White did not win a set, the play was very fast throughout and was in doubt until the end. Larned won out in two deuce sets the scores being, 7-5, 7-5. The Budlong-Larned match brought out the best tennis. The Brown man won the first two sets and looked a sure winner, but Larned by a great up-hill struggle finally won out. The sets were all very close with the exception of the last which Larned won easy as Budlong was completely exhausted. The score was 5-7, 2-6, 7-5, 6-4, 6-1.

The Doubles was a walk-over for Larned and Coffin, who displayed good team work and won easily over all their opponents.

The standing of the colleges on the eight-point cup is as follows: Williams, six; Technology, six; Brown, four; Amherst, two and one-half; Dartmouth, two; Bowdoin, one; Tufts, one; Wesleyan, one-half and Vermont none.

NATIONAL INTERSCHOLASTIC CHAMPIONSHIP.

FOUR of the seven colleges sent a representative to Newport to compete for the National Interscholastic Championship which took place during the week of the National Championship August 21. They were Harvard, Princeton, University of Pennsylvania and Columbia. Each college should take an interest in this event and see that the winner is representing their college at Newport.

It was expected that either Sweetzer (Harvard) or Johnson (Univ. of Penn.) would win as both had had more or less tournament experience. Reimer of Columbia and Mathey of Princeton played good tennis but not aggressive enough to win. The Final Match between Johnson and Sweetzer was well contested. Both players had good services which they followed to the net. Their style of play, however, was entirely different. Sweetzer was free and easy getting good length while Johnson chopped a great deal but was more accurate and steadier. A large number of college men watched this match and it was not until after four hard sets that Johnson won.

The Scores:

Men's Singles.

First Round: W. F. Johnson (Penn.) beat John Reimer (Columbia), 6-0, 6-0; Arthur Sweetzer (Harvard) beat Dean Mathey (Princeton), 6-4, 4-6, 6-2.

Final Round: W. F. Johnson (Penn.) beat Arthur Sweetzer (Harvard), 7-5, 6-3, 7-9, 7-5.

METROPOLITAN LAWN TENNIS LEAGUE

THE Championship of this league was won by the New York Lawn Tennis Club and it was certainly a deservedly clever victory for they were pitted against the strong West Side aggregation, in whose team appeared Raymond D. Little and Karl H. Behr two Internationalists and also Harold H. Hackett and furthermore the final contest was the result of a tie on account of each club having won three matches in the play-off between the winners of the different sections. The cream of the clubs in the Metropolitan district is comprised in the membership of this league.

The Scores:

Section 1.

	Won	Lost
West Side	11	4
Kings County	9	6
Crescent A. C.	9	6
Knickerbocker F. C.	8	7

Section 2.

New York L. T. C	12	0
Montclair A. C	9	3
Staten Island L. T. C.	5	7

The winners of each section then met in Home and Home Matches with the following results: October 5 at West Side.

LAWN TENNIS IN CALIFORNIA.

Pacific States Championship.

THIS event was held at Del Monte, September 1 to 9, instead of San Rafael this year and will probably continue to be held there in succeeding years. The north carried off the Men's Singles and Doubles, the south taking Mixed Doubles, Ladies' Singles and Doubles. The Junior Championship also went north.

McLoughlin defeated Bell in the Finals, 6-0, 4-6, 5-7, 9-7, 6-2. The match was brilliant and hard fought as the score indicates; ex-Champion Bell showing better form than he has since he won the title in 1903. The Challenge Match was even closer, McLoughlin finally coming out winner over M. Long, 13-11, 6-4, 5-7, 4-6, 6-4. The players were as evenly matched as it is possible to have them. The sensation occurred in the Final set when M. Long all but evened up the score after being on the tail end of a 5-0 score.

Janes and McLoughlin won the Doubles. In the Final Round they defeated Sinsabaugh and Hendrick in a fast five-set match. The Challenge Match they won easily from the holders Adams and Foley, 7-5, 6-1, 6-2.

Little Bob Strachan won the Junior event, waxing his gigantic opponent Harold Getz in a five-set match.

The Mixed Doubles went to Sinsabaugh and Florence Sutton who defeated Mrs. Farquhar and Bell in the Finals in a fast three-set match.

Florence Sutton by defeating Miss Hotchkiss in the Challenge Round became lady Champion for 1907. The score was 6-4, 6-3, but was closer than the figures indicate. Miss Sutton and her sister Mrs. Bruce won the Ladies' Doubles, defeating Miss Meyer and Mrs. Farquhar in the Finals, 6-2, 6-2.

Maurice McLoughlin by winning both the Single and Doubles title stamps himself as the foremost player of the season.

CALIFORNIA STATE CHAMPIONSHIP.

The California State Championship was played July 4 and following days on the courts of the Golden Gate Club this year instead of the Hotel San Rafael courts where it was played last year.

Melville Long, Coast Champion, 1906, carried off first honors in this, the eighth annual State Championship defeating his brother Herbert in the Challenge Match, 6-4, 6-1, 6-3. Probably the surprise of the event was the defeat of McLoughlin by Geo. Janes. The match was close and exciting going to Janes, 7-5, 6-8, 6-4. McLoughlin was hardly at his best.

In the Semi-Finals M. Long disposed of Gardner easily, 6-4, 6-1, and Janes snuffed Foley's ambitions, 4-6, 6-4, 6-3. M. Long played an almost faultless game in the Finals when he met Janes. The latter was given a very good chance to win by the majority, but the best he could do was to get one game in each of the three sets. In the Challenge Match, M. Long met his brother Herbert, winning, 6-4, 6-1, 6-3. The first set was close and replete with brilliant plays, but in the other two Melville clearly outclassed his brother. On the whole it was rather a "family affair."

Miss Hazel Hotchkiss successfully defended her title as Lady Champion, beating Miss Meyer the challenger in straight sets, 6-4, 8-6. The match was close and interesting, Miss Hotchkiss' superior net work winning for her. Had Miss Meyer had a little more confidence, she would have done better.

In the Finals Miss Meyer had defeated Mrs. Neimeyer in straight sets, 6-4, 7-5. Mrs. Neimeyer was very steady but not aggressive enough.

Bay Counties Championship.

The Bay Counties annual event was completed October 26 on the Park courts in San Francisco. This Championship wound up the season so far as big events are concerned. Mauris McLoughlin won the title from Geo. Janes in easy fashion, 6-1, 7-5, 6-2. In the Finals he disposed of Chas. Foley in a four-set match, 6-4, 4-6, 9-7, 6-2.

M. Long and C. R. Gardner won the Doubles, defeating C. Griffin and R. Hunt in the Challenge Match after five hard sets. In the Finals they disposed of C. Foley and H. Long by score of three sets to one.

Miss Meyer turned the tables on her old-time adversary Miss Hotchkiss in the ladies' Challenge Match and by some beautiful playing won the Championship in straight sets, 6-3, 7-5. Miss Meyer previously won from Mrs. Neimeyer in the Fnials by a 6-3, 7-5 score.

The San Francisco Championship.

The seventh annual city Championship was concluded on the courts of the California Lawn Tennis Club on May 30, Maurice McLoughlin becoming the new Champion. His victory was not unlooked for and there were many "I told you so's" heard, after the completion of the event.

It was a remarkable fact that every man he defeated in the tournament was a member of the Championship class. He first defeated Herbert Long (State Champion), 6-3, 3-6, 6-2; then Geo. Janes (Bay Counties Champion), 6-3, 8-6 and followed that up by taking the Coast Champion, Melville Long, into camp 6-3, 13-11. In the Finals he had a close call at the hands of C. R. Gardner, ex-City Champion, the match going the full five sets and the Final set to deuce. Gardner won the first set, 6-2, playing a fast hard net game, but McLoughlin took the next 6-4 and the third 6-3. Again Gardner rallied and won the fourth 6-4. In the fifth McLoughlin did some remarkable playing running the score up to 4-1 in short order, but Gardner tied it at 4-4. The set finally went to McLoughlin 8-6.

In the Challenge Match McLoughlin defeated Charles Foley in a four-set match. Foley was not at his best and McLoughlin was decidedly nervous. The first set was the best going to McLoughlin 9-7. The next was his by 6-0 score. Foley won the third 6-3, but McLoughlin took the fourth and Final set 6-2.

San Francisco Grammar School Tournament.

The second tournament for San Francisco Grammar School Championship took place on the courts of the Park Club during summer in which there was an unusual amount of interest.

The first grammar school tournament was held two years ago and won by Maurice McLoughlin, the young player who now holds the Coast Championship. It was thought that B. Batkin of the Crocker Grammar School or J. Strachan of the Adams Grammar School would prove the winner of the tournament, but F. Hobson (also of the Crocker School) disposed of these young players rather easily, playing in true Champion form with good strokes and plenty of confidence.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA.

The twenty-third annual lawn tennis tournament for the Championship of Southern California was held at the courts of the Country Club, Ocean Park, California, during the week beginning July 29 and ending August 3, 1907. Judged both from number of entries as well as class of play, the tournament was one of the most successful ever held in Southern California. There were fifty-three entries in the Open Singles, among whom were Melville H. Long, Pacific Coast Champion for1906, Harold H. Braly, Southern California Champion for 1906, Allen V. Duncan of Princeton, S. B. Marston of Cornell, Arthur Gowan of Stanford, Claude Wayne and R. H. F. Variel, Jr. of Berkeley, A. E. Bell, Nat B. Browne, T. C. Bundy and S. M. Sinsabaugh of Los Angeles.

As was predicted by many followers of the game, Melville H. Long proved to be the victor in the Open Singles, defeating in turn E. Conde Jones, Allen V. Duncan, Charles Rogers, Carl Gardner, A. E. Bell in the Semi-Finals and S. M. Sinsabaugh in the Finals without the loss of a set up to this point. In the Championship Match in which Long challenged Braly, the spectators who filled the grandstand and grounds to overflowing, were treated to the finest exhibition of tennis ever witnessed in Southern California. Braly had not been well for several weeks and had not expected to defend his title until prevailed upon by his colleagues of the South to defend his laurels against Northern invasion. But when play began, it was soon seen that it would not be a walk-away match. Braly throughout played a heady and aggressive game, conserving his strength whenever possible and extending Long to his utmost for the entire five sets.

Braly's terrific service almost invariably won his service game for him but he also experienced great difficulty in breaking through Long's service. Braly led at 5-4 in the first set but Long did some very clever up-hill playing, using effectively his famous fore-hand cross-court volley and winning the set 7-5. Braly annexed the next two sets by scores of 6-4, and 6-3 while Long won the fourth set at 7-5.

When they came out for the fifth set excitement ran high. Braly on account of his physical condition had shown some signs of fatigue and it was feared that Long would win an easy victory in the deciding set. But, contrary to expectation, this set was the closest and hardest-fought of the match. Each won their own serves up to five-all. From then on, at different times, each held the advantage game but the other would always even up the score. Seven times Braly needed but one point to win the match but did not have enough "ginger" left to follow up his advantage, Long showing remarkable nerve at these critical times. When the score stood 12-all, they had been playing for over three hours and Braly was so exhausted that he could not follow in his serve, Long taking the advantage game. The twenty-sixth game of the set Long won handily, thus winning the match and Championship by a score of 7-5, 4-6, 3-6, 7-5, 14-12, from which it will be seen that Long won a total of 35 games against a total of 34 for Braly.

There were twenty teams entered in the Gentlemen's Doubles. Wayne and Variel (of Berkeley) won the tournament, defeating Long and Gardner in the Semi-Finals, and Bell and Way in the Finals. In the Challenge Round against Sinsabaugh and Browne, 1906 Champions, they had two sets to one and the score stood 6-all on the fourth set when the match had to be postponed on account of darkness. When the match was resumed the following Saturday Sinsabaugh and Browne succeeded in pulling out the fourth set 8-6 and won the deciding set 6-0. By successfully defending their title this year, it gives Sinsabaugh and Browne two wins on the handsome Doubles Trophies. Bell and Way also have two wins, and as a third win gives permanent possession of the cups, it is expected that Bell and Way will make a hard fight to reach the Challenge Round next year.

In the Ladies' Singles Miss Florence Sutton won from Miss Alice Scott in the Finals, 5-7, 6-3, 6-1. Miss Scott is the first lady other than a Sutton who has taken a set from any of the Suttons in a Southern California tournament. In the Challenge Match Miss Florence Sutton defeated her sister Mrs. B. O. Bruce, 1906 Champion, by a score of 9-7, 6-4.

In the Finals of Mixed Doubles Miss Florence Sutton and S. M. Sinsabaugh befeated Mrs. O. B. Bruce and Tom Bundy in a close match, 6-8, 7-5, 6-2. In the Finals of Ladies' Doubles, Miss Florence Sutton and Miss Alice Scott won from Miss Peralta and Miss Sterling, 6-1, 6-2. In the Junior Singles, which brought out many promising young players, Winfred Mace won in the Finals from Ward Dawson by a score of 6-3, 5-7, 6-4. The Ladies' Special event was won by Miss Eleanor Peralta and the Consolation Singles by A. J. Gowan of Stanford. The Scores:

OJAI VALLEY TENNIS TOURNAMENT.

The twelfth annual spring tennis tournaments of the Ojai Valley Tennis Club in Nordhoff (near Santa Barbara) in Southern California were held on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, April 25, 26 and 27 1907.

The entry list of 123 was the largest in the history of the club. The weather was warm and pleasant so that all enjoyed not only the tennis but also the tea which was served each afternoon on the club-house porch, the ice cream served under the largest oak, and the moonlight outdoor concert given by the Throop Mandolin Club.

The new feature of the tournament was the so-called Ojai Valley Invitation tournament for girls at private schools in Southern California. About twice as many schools sought invitations as could be entertained.

The decorations of blue and gold, wild flowers as usual were the feature of the occasion and the banners of twenty different schools together with the half dozen large United States flags added to the gala appearance.

LAWN TENNIS IN CANADA.

INTERNATIONAL TOURNAMENT.

Niagara-on-the-Lake.

ONE of the most historic tennis tournaments on the continent "The International at Niagara-on-the-Lake" proved a grand success and the quality of play seemed to rival the good old days when America's first players battled for Championship honors. The chief feature, of course, with this year centered in the appearance of Miss May Sutton, the world's Lady Champion, fresh from her conquests in Great Britain, Miss Moore and Miss Rotch from the Eastern states. Such was the delight of the many spectators in the ladies' events that in future the tournament will make a specialty of ladies' entries. Miss Bessie Moore, by her genial nature and splendid play, completely won the hearts of her many Canadian friends and in response to many requests consented to take charge of the ladies' events for the tournament of 1908.

Irving Wright successfully defended his title of International Champion by defeating the new Canadian Champion, J. F. Foulkes of Ottawa, in three hard and well played sets.

Great interest was also taken in the Final Round of the Mixed Doubles when Miss Rotch and Mr. Niles, defeated Miss Moore and Mr. Wright after three strenuous sets in which Miss Rotch and Miss Moore won rounds of applause from the large gathering for their splendid tennis.

In the Canadian Championship events Mr. Foulkes of Ottawa carried off the honors as Canadian Champion after a week's well-played tennis. and in the Doubles Mr. Glassco and Mr. Burns succeeded in retaining their title. Miss Noyes won the Ladies' Championship.

Prospects for 1908 are very bright and a large attendance is looked for.

THE CANADIAN CHAMPIONSHIP.

The Canadian Championship was held on the grass courts of the Queens Royal Hotel, Niagara-on-the-Lake, the week of August 28, 1907. There was more interest and enthusiasm than for a number of years particularly among the Canadian tennis players owing to a new departure being introduced by the Canadian Lawn Tennis Association which was that the Canadian Championship be held for Canadians only, which proved very popular bringing out quite a good entry list of players from different parts of Canada who never played at this tournament before, and no doubt the idea will show its good results with a larger entry list next season than ever before.

J. F. Foulkes of Ottawa won the Championship after some very steady playing throughout the week. Miss Moyes of Toronto defeated Miss Hague of Montreal after a well-played three-set match for the ladies' Canadian Championship.

The Doubles were won by E. S. Glassco and Ralph Burns of Toronto.

PROVINCE OF QUEBEC LAWN TENNIS ASSOCIATION.

The ninth annual tournament of the Province of Quebec Lawn Tennis Association commenced this year on September 3, a month later than usual, the reason for this being that so many people are out of town during August.

The beautiful new grounds of the Mount Royal Tennis Club were placed at our disposal, and the nine perfect grass courts made it easy for the committee to run the matches off on schedule time.

The only disappointing feature of the meet was the weather, it rained every day for two weeks and necessitated postponing play, and on this account several Toronto and Kingston players who had promised to come on from the Niagara tournament, failed to appear. However, the local entries were larger than ever, and the interest taken by the public shows what strides tennis is making in Montreal.

The matches were followed by a large gallery, and most of them were close and exciting. Mr. T. Y. Sherwell is again open Champion, successfully defending his cup against G. W. Grier, runner-up. Mr. H. M. Suckling for the sixth time won the Montreal Cup, representing the Championship of the city, defeating Mr. Watts in the Finals.

The ladies' events and Mixed Doubles were features of the meet, and great interest was shown by the fair sex in these events, which were introduced for the first time.

The club entertained at luncheon and dinner during the week, and a perfectly good time was enjoyed by everybody. On Saturday the cups and prizes were presented by the president, Mr. A. D. Anderson.

NOVA SCOTIA LAWN TENNIS ASSOCIATION.

The seventh annual tournament of this association was held on the pretty grounds of the South End Lawn Tennis Club in Halifax on August 17 to 23, 1907.

The various clubs throughout Nova Scotia were not as well represented as they should have been largely on account of the superior playing of the Halifax people, but the tournament was well contested especially in the gentlemen's events. Messrs. W. I. Wood and A. Landry putting up a remarkably fine fight against Messrs. F. T. Handsombody and C. Grant the present Champions who were playing in fine form.

This year a new rule was adopted which provided that the Champions of last year did not play throughout the tournament but that the winners of this year's events should challenge the Champions. This rule proved very successful and made the tournament more interesting by allowing some of the younger players to win out. The Championship events were played off on Saturday and resulted in the following ladies and gentlemen being winners, these becoming Champions of Nova Scotia:

The Scores:

Ladies' Singles.

Mrs. Handsombody beat Mrs. Anderson, 6-3, 6-2.

Gentlemen's Singles.

C. R. Grant beat J. L. Ritchie, 6-3, 6-1, 6-1.

Gentlemen's Doubles.

J. L. and W. B. Ritchie beat C. R. Grant and F. T. Handsombody, 6-3, 7-5, 6-3.

Mixed Doubles.

Mr. and Mrs. Handsombody beat Dr. G. McDonald and Miss Fraser, 6-3, 4-6, 6-3.

The winners of the Ladies' Doubles not being able to be present to defend the Championship Mrs. Handsombody and Miss Lawson won by default.

The winners in these events were presented with the first prizes and also a Special Gold Badge, while the runners-up were awarded second prizes.

The ladies of the club provided tea during the week, and a large number of spectators were in attendance.

On the following Monday the first Maritime Provinces Championships held in Halifax for some years took place on the fine grounds of the Wanderers Amateur Athletic Club, Halifax.

The Champions in each event of the New Brunswick Tennis Association were present, but unfortunately those of the Prince Edward Island Association could not attend.

While the New Brunswick Champions played a good game the Halifax players captured all the events and became Champions of the Maritime provinces as follows:

The Scores:

Ladies' Singles.

Mrs. Handsombody beat Miss Thomson, 6-2, 6-2.

Ladies' Doubles.

Mrs. Handsombody and Miss Lawson beat Mrs. J. R. Thomson and Miss Babbott, 6-0, 6-2.

After the events were played off and tea served by the wife of George A. Taylor, President of the Wanderers Club, assisted by a number of ladies, the prizes were presented by the president of the association, J. C. Lithgow.

The M. S. Brown trophy won last year by the Wanderers Club was captured this year by the South End Club on points.

Professor Murray McNeil was awarded the prize for the most efficient and popular umpire.

The president announced that Captain Carlon of the Royal Canadian Regiment had presented a handsome trophy to be awarded to the Champion of the Gentlemen's Singles to be held for one year and to be won out by any player winning same three times not necessarily in consecutive years.

As will be seen by the results as above Mrs. Handsombody won five gold badges as Champion in the several events.

The next tournament of the Nova Scotia Association will be held in Truro in August next and it is proposed to have the Maritime Champions meet in Rothesay, N. B., later on in August.

We are very desirous of having a visit from some of the American players and can assure them of some good games and a warm welcome.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

Hon. President—J. C. Lithgow, Halifax.

President—Walter G. Stanfield, Truro.

Vice-President—Dr. G. J. McDonald, New Glasgow.

T. MALCOLM McAVITY

NEW BRUNSWICK TENNIS ASSOCIATION TOURNAMENT

The fourth annual tournament of the New Brunswick Tennis Association was commenced at Sackville on Tuesday, August 6 and continued until the following Friday. Rain somewhat interfered with the playing but otherwise the meet was most successful, the Sackville club proving themselves good hosts. CHAMPIONSHIPS OF BRITISH COLUMBIA.

Once more the courts of the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club were the scenes of much gaiety, the occasion being the annual open tournament held during the first week of August.

Visitors this year were very numerous including G. Sieler of Odessa, Wash., Tracy Crawford and Reuben G. Hunt of Oakland, Cal., Miss Beckett, Miss Jukes, Miss King, Miss Hobson, Messrs. B. Rhodes, Cave-Browne-Cave of Vancouver, F. A. Macrae of New Westminster, Miss E. Ryan of Santa Monica, Cal., Ray Thomson of Tacoma and Joe Tyler of Seattle, the holder of the Championship Singles. Among those who were missed were Miss P. Pooley who was absent in England, Miss Alice Bell who has left Victoria, and F. Temple Cornwall who has also removed to other climes.

As usual the club was favored with excellent weather and many exciting matches were witnessed by large galleries during the week, the attendance on the final afternoon being the largest in the history of the club.

Much uneasiness was felt lest the remaining Championships should be taken by our friends across the line, thus following the example set by Tyler of Seattle in 1906, when he won the Singles Championship of B. C., but not only were they kept here but our local Champion Mr. B. P. Schwengers succeeded in winning back the honor which he lost the previous year.

In the Men's Singles Mr. Hunt was looked upon as a likely winner but though he played well and worked his way to the Semi-Finals, he was defeated by Schwengers in a three-set match. In the other half A. T. Goward disposed of Crawford (6-4, 6-2) who had previously beaten Thomson of Tacoma, 6-4, 6-0. Goward and Schwengers met in the Finals to decide who should have the honor of challenging Tyler for the Championship, and Schwengers playing the best tennis he had ever shown won quite easily, not only in three straight sets but only allowing Goward five games. After this easy victory. Schwengers was installed as favorite for the Championship, and the choice was justified as on the following afternoon in lovely weather and in the presence of a large and enthusiastic audience, Tyler met defeat. Schwengers played in even better form than on the day before; his control of the ball was almost perfect. He out-drove, out-placed and out-generalled Tyler completely and won by three sets to one. Score: 8-6, 6-2, 3-6, 6-4.

B. P. SCHWENGERS
British Columbia Champion

In the Ladies' Singles Miss E. Ryan, Miss Beckett and Miss M. Pitts were probably the three strongest players entered. Miss Pitts defeated Mrs. Arundell of Victoria without the loss of a game, but she was in turn defeated by Miss Beckett of Vancouver. In the Finals Miss E. Ryan easily defeated Miss Beckett, 6-1, 6-2, and won the Championship by default from her sister who did not defend.

In the Men's Doubles there were several good teams including Hunt and Crawford who were beaten in the Semi-Final Round by Schwengers and Macrae after the Californians had defeated Major Williams and McDougall, the latter team at one time in this match leading by three games to love in the Final set. In the Finals Schwengers and Macrae repeated their success of the year before, defeating the same team, Goward and Tyler, 6-3, 2-6, 6-3, 6-0.

In the Ladies' Doubles Miss M. Pitts and Miss E. Ryan had no trouble defeating all their opponents with ease, and winning out in the Finals from Miss King and Miss Hobson of Vancouver, 6-1, 6-4.

The Mixed Doubles produced some lovely tennis and as usual attracted much attention. Probably the best game was that between Hunt and Mrs. Burton and Meredith and Miss Pitts which was exceedingly close and only won by the latter pair after three hard sets, 5-7, 8-6, 6-4. Another good game was that between Tyler and Miss Ryan and Major Williams and Mrs. Read, the former eventually winning, 6-4, 6-4. In the Finals Tyler and Miss Ryan rather easily defeated Meredith and Miss M. Pitts, 6-1, 6-2.

During the week the ladies of the club assisted by friends supplied tea and other refreshments and with the presentation of prizes on Saturday afternoon another successful tournament passed into history.

Tennis is becoming so popular in Victoria, that the club has found it absolutely necessary to look for new grounds, and negotiations are now being carried on with the hope of obtaining a large tract of over six acres situated on the beautiful waters of Victoria Arm and accessible by boat or land craft. The club intends to build six courts as well as several croquet and bowling greens, and when this work is completed, as it is hoped it soon will be, will possess property and surroundings second to none on the coast.

THE MAINLAND OF BRITISH COLUMBIA.

The annual open tournament of the Vancouver Lawn Tennis Club for the Championship of the Mainland, and the annual tournament of the North Pacific International Lawn Tennis Association, were held simultaneously on the grounds of the former club in Vancouver, B. C., the week commencing August 12, 1907. There was a very large attendance, both of players and spectators, and the tournaments were conceded to be by far the best exhibitions of the game ever held on the Pacific Coast. The Vancouver Lawn Tennis Club had gone to very great trouble and expense in preparing for the tournaments and to show that the club's efforts were thoroughly appreciated is shown by the following resolution which was unanimously passed at the annual meeting of the association, held during the week:

"Whereas; never before have so complete and perfect arrangements been made for conducting an annual tournament of this association, and the executive committee, being deeply appreciative of the unusual and extraordinarily successful efforts put forth by the local managers and the great expense incurred by the local club to insure the success of the meeting;

"Be it resolved; that the sincere thanks of this association be tendered to the Vancouver Lawn Tennis Club and especially to the chairman of its tournament committee, Mr. E. Cave-Browne-Cave, and his able assistants, for the very satisfactory manner in which everything has been arranged for the success of the meeting and the comfort and entertainment of the visitors."

The following clubs and representatives were entered in the tournament of the North Pacific International Lawn Tennis Association:

The open tournament for the Championship of the Mainland brought out a fine lot of players including those entered in the International. Very welcome visitors were Miss Hazel Hotchkiss of Berkeley, Cal., and Miss E. Ryan of Pasadena, Cal., who were entered in all the events.

In the Gentlemen's Singles, B. P. Schwengers of Victoria, B. C., beat F. T. Payne of Tacoma, 6-2, 6-1, 3-6, 10-8, Payne having previously beaten J. C. Tyler, 7-5, 7-5, reversing Tyler's victory over him in the International. Schwengers played a magnificent game throughout the week and well deserved his victory. This is the second year in succession that Schwengers has won the Championship.

The Gentlemen's Doubles were won by F. T. Payne and A. Armstrong of Tacoma who beat B. P. Schwengers and F. A. Macrae of Victoria, 6-4, 6-1, 1-6, 8-10, 7-5. There was more excitement manifested by the spectators during this match than during any match in the week, partly on account of the opposing teams representing Canada and the United States respectively, there being a large number of visitors from both countries. It was a magnificent struggle. It was the last match of the week and when at 6.45 on Saturday evening the score stood two sets all and five games all, the interest and excitement can be better imagined than described.

PENNSYLVANIA STATE TOURNAMENT.

The season of 1907 at the Merion Cricket Club was one of marked activity and interest in tennis, and the several tournaments held on the club's grounds developed the skill of the players and also gave pleasure to many who enjoyed watching the games.

The season began with an Invitation Round-Robin tournament, held under the auspices of the United States Lawn Tennis Association for the American Tennis Team, consisting of Beals C. Wright and Karl Behr, other noted players also taking part in the tournament.

The annual women's tournament was held June 3 and following days, its scope being enlarged this year, so as to include the Championship of Pennsylvania and Eastern States, thus becoming a tournament of great importance and attracting a large number of players, including representatives from New York, Boston and other cities.

The Doubles were won by Messrs. M. A. Agelasto and Walter H. Taylor, Jr., and the lady Champion is Miss M. C. Evans of Richmond, who now owns the trophy having won it for three years.

WEST VIRGINIA STATE TOURNAMENT.

The second annual Invitation tennis tournament for the Championship of West Virginia, was held at the Parkersburg Country Club, Parkersburg, W. Va., September 9, 10 and 11, 1907, and was the largest and most successful event ever held at the club.

The weather was all that could be desired, and the club's four clay courts were in perfect condition and very fast. The entry list was unusually large, there being 36 entries in Singles and 18 teams in Doubles, and comprised players from all sections of the state.

The club is admirably arranged for the entertainment of visitors and the conveniences afforded by it and the courteous treatment extended was a source of great satisfaction to the visiting players.

Informal affairs on the evenings of the first and second days and a large club dance on the evening of the third day, brought to a close a most successful meet.

The handsome silver Challenge Cup was won by Mr. Ward White in the Challenge Round from Mr. Everett Drennen (holder), and this match was productive of some very clever racket work. White showed great form and won rather easily in straight sets, 6-3, 6-1, 6-3.

Individual cups were presented to J. O. Watson, runner-up in Singles, and to White and Drennen, winners in Doubles.

Handsome flasks were also presented to R. A. Johnson, winner in Singles, and to Baker and Henderson, winners in Doubles, in the Consolation events.

The adding of the Consolation events was a new feature of the tournament, and proved to be a most successful innovation, as the keenest interest was manifested in all the plays until the last match was finished.

TRI-STATE TOURNAMENT.

Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky.

The ninth annual Cincinnati Open Tennis Tournament for the Tri-State Championships of Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky was held by the Ohio Lawn Tennis Association and under the auspices of the United States National Lawn Tennis Association on the courts of the Cincinnati Lawn Tennis Club. Play began on the afternoon of Saturday, August 31st, and was to have concluded on Saturday, September 7th. But due to a protracted rain on Labor Day, September 2nd, the committee were unable to effect the completion of but one match. This caused the tournament to continue through Monday, September 9th.

The Cincinnati Tournament has since its inception steadily grown until it has assumed a position of considerable importance among the various tennis meets in the United States. The "Tri" has become a familiar sobriquet, especially in the East. The present tournament went far towards maintaining the claim of its supporters as to its being second only to one in respect to the caliber of the entrants and quality of the play. The entry list in Men's Singles surpassed by ten even that of 1906 when seventy-eight contested for the honor of challenging the Tri-State Champion, Beals C. Wright. But there was another distinguishing feature of even more importance in that the list included the names of some of the leaders in the tennis world. Considerable disappointment was felt at Beals C. Wright's decision not to defend his title, and also at the inability of Karl Behr to be present. Their absence was to a large degree compensated by the appearance of the well-known faces of R. D. Little and Robert LeRoy. In addition to these came others who had given good account of themselves earlier in the season. Foremost among these were R. Chauncey Seaver, Massachusetts State Champion, Richard H. Palmer, who surprised Newport by his defeat of Karl Behr in the First Round of the Nationals, Nat. Niles of Boston and Irving C. Wright, the brilliant younger brother of the title holder. From the South came J. Floyd Day and Norman Farrell, Jr., of Nashville, Tenn., from California there was M. G. Chase and numerous other familiar and strange faces were seen that showed that the efforts of the committee had borne fruit in many different parts of the country. The progress of the new men from the East was watched with the keenest interest. Nat. Niles went down to defeat in the Fourth Round when he met Nat. Emerson, the Western Champion; the Cincinnati man was playing in his best form and won so easily that many had their hopes raised that he might reach the Semi-Finals by defeating LeRoy. But Thursday, these hopes were dashed by his defeat in straight sets by LeRoy, 6-3, 6-3. The only other local man to get within striking distance of the Semi-Finals was Wm. P. Hunt, who all but took the measure of R. H. Palmer. Up to this time the Easterner had won his matches handily in straight sets, but in Hunt he found a worthy opponent.

Much interest centered in Irving C. Wright, and the similarity to his brother was noticed at once, both in appearance on the court and in the style of his play. In his very first played set he was twice within a point of losing, but he proved too strong for his opponent, Mark Mitchell of Cincinnati, and finally won the set 9-7. The second set was won easily by Wright, 6-1. On the following day, Wednesday, it was thought he would have a harder proposition when he met Dr. Karl Little, Champion of Georgia, Kentucky and Southern Ohio, but the uncertainty of tennis was never more in evidence for the Cincinnati man was away off in his play and succeeded in winning but one game in the two sets. In the meantime, R. C. Seaver had had little trouble in reaching the Fourth Round; in that round on Wednesday, he met Lincoln Mitchell, who had in the morning, by brilliant play defeated

H. T. Emerson, a brother of Nat. Emerson, in a closely contested match. This match seemed to put him on his nettle for the afternoon play and he fought hard and made Seaver battle through a long deuce set before he finally lost. The match went to Seaver, 9-7, 6-2. This brought Seaver and Wright together in the Fifth Round, and though it was apparent that the latter had not struck his gait, he was picked as the winner. However, this proved to be one of the many surprises in the tournament and after some of the most brilliant playing of the tournament Seaver annexed the match, 8-6, 6-4. He demonstrated that he is one of the greatest "getters" that has ever been seen here, and fully lived up to his nick-name, "Race-Horse" Seaver. Wright was clearly not at his best, and the chief difference between his play and that of his brother was shown to be that it is more brilliant but less steady. R. D. Little reached the Semi-Finals by his defeat of Chas. Farber of Columbus, one of the fixtures of the tournament. Meanwhile the ladies had been contesting for the honor of being defeated by Miss May Sutton, who was present fresh from her many victories in the British Isles and at Canada. With her, from Canada, came Miss Lois Moyes, the woman Champion of Canada, and it was generally conceded that she would be the one to stand as the last obstacle in the path of Miss Sutton to the possession of the "Tri-State Cup," the Women's Challenge Trophy. However, this proved another calculation to be upset, and on Wednesday, Miss Martha Kinsey of Cincinnati succeeded in easily defeating the Canadian player, 6-4, 6-0. Mr. George Wright who was an interested spectator of the play, spoke in very high terms of Miss Kinsey's playing ability, and expressed the hope that 1908 would find her playing at Philadelphia. The Challenge Round was played on the Championship court, Saturday afternoon, prior to the Final Round in Men's Singles, Miss Kinsey made a brave stand and succeeded in deucing several games and winning one in each set. But at the end the crowd was cheering the California girl who had become for the third consecutive time Tri-State Champion and permanent possessor of the beautiful "Tri-State Cup." This cup having unfortunately disappeared, the committee gave assurances that it would be replaced and the association ordered an exact duplicate of the trophy. The association will offer another trophy in the Ladies' Singles Championship event, to be played for under rules similar to those which governed competition for the "Tri-State Cup" won by Miss Sutton.

The two Semi-Finals in Men's Singles on Friday afternoon were exceptionally interesting. The remarkable hold that tennis has on the people in and around Cincinnati was shown by good crowds on each day, and this steadily increased to over 2,000 who came to witness the Semi-Finals, many having stayed during the lunch hour to retain seats of vantage. The match between Little and Seaver fully repaid these enthusiasts, as it went the full five-sets and was brilliant tennis all the way through. Seaver strengthened the impression he made the day before by his defeat of Wright and took this match by the scores of 6-0, 2-6, 6-2, 5-7, 6-3, thereby earning his way to the Finals by good, hard, deserving play. The other Semi-Final Round, though less protracted, was scarcely less interesting. Palmer, with the memory of his defeat at Newport by LeRoy fresh in his mind, fought hard in the realization of this chance to even up matters. But he could not quite reach, and though he seemed steadily to be growing stronger, he stopped just short of accomplishing the win of the third set and the match went to LeRoy, 6-0, 6-3, 8-6.

This brought Seaver and LeRoy together in the Final Round, which was also the Championship Round, by reason of the decision of Beals C. Wright to default. After the completion of the Championship Round in Ladies' Singles, the two finalists stepped on the Championship court, amid the applause of the 3,500 people who had braved the darkening skies and occasional rains. Seaver was there, determined again to upset the "dope" and LeRoy as equally determined to put an effectual stop to the successful advance of his opponent. And it was a battle well worth seeing, the first set going to LeRoy, 8-6, the second set, almost the exact reverse all the way through, went to Seaver, 8-6. From this point the tide turned against Seaver and it was a steady advance for LeRoy to victory, and by taking the next two sets he at last won the prize, so long and consistently fought for the Tri-State Championship. By this win he becomes the first holder of the new "George DeCamp Trophy," a silver punch bowl and salver offered in honor of the late George DeCamp, as a tribute to the man to whose energy and loyal work the success of past Tri-State Tournaments has been largely due. This trophy takes the place of the "Governor's Bowl" which in 1906 became the permanent property of Beals C. Wright.

Miss Sutton and Miss Noyes were compelled to default in the Ladies' Doubles, due to the enforced departure of Miss Noyes. The Finals resulted in the defeat of Miss Natalie Breed and Miss Adele Kruse by Miss Ruth Cowing and Miss Martha Kinsey, 6-1, 6-3. In the Mixed Doubles there were some very interesting matches, illuminative of this peculiar style of play, but the result was disappointing as the Final Round was won by default by Miss Sutton and Mr. Wright, due to the illness of Miss Marjorie Dodd, who was to have appeared with Mr. LeRoy in the Finals of the event. The loss of an entire day caused by the rain on Labor Day made it impossible to complete all the events in the scheduled time, and it was decided by the committee to play the Semi-Finals and Finals in Men's Doubles on the following Monday. Robert LeRoy and Irving Wright won their matches handily against R. C. Seaver and Nat. Niles, 6-3, 7-5, 6-3. Meanwhile R. D. Little and Nat. Emerson were having a harder time of it with H. T. Emerson and Wm. T. Hunt, who were made confident by the memory of their great five-set victory over R. H. Palmer and Nelson Peebles on Saturday. Little and Emerson finally proved the winners, 6-3, 9-7, 4-6, 6-1. By this time Little and Emerson were getting more used to each other and their team work was much improved. Yet the majority of the followers of the game picked LeRoy and Wright as the winners, and at the end of the third set with the score two to one in sets in their favor, it looked as though the calculation was correct, but Little and Emerson came strong after the rest and took the next two sets, 6-2, 6-2. Much of the play was directed against Emerson but he resisted splendidly, and it was generally conceded that the Western man was holding his own with the fast trio of Easterners. LeRoy played brilliantly at the start, while Wright seemed a little off, as play progressed, however, things reversed and Wright was the stronger. The entire match developed some beautiful and exciting tennis and was greatly enjoyed by the large number of spectators who continually showed their appreciation of the finer points of the game. At the deciding point a great cheer went up which marked the close of the Tri-State Tournament of 1907.

Entries may be made for the tournament of 1908, by communication to Nat. Emerson, 1620 First National Bank Building, Cincinnati, Ohio.

INDIANA STATE TOURNAMENT.

The first official tennis state tournament ever held in Indiana was given by the Irvington Tennis Club on its four new courts at Butler College, commencing September 9 and concluding September 14. Forty men were entered in Singles, twenty-three teams in Doubles and twelve teams in Mixed Doubles.

Fred Appell, a recent Princeton graduate, and Charles Trask, an old Yale man, pulled through to the Finals, where Mr. Appell, by his superior tactics beat Mr. Trask.

In the Doubles, Mitchell and Ackerland from Cincinnati recently home from Yale and Harvard, were generally picked to win the Doubles, with possibly Rice and McMullen giving them a fight in the Finals, but Sutphin and Geddess, two dark horses, pulled through the field and met Mitchell and Ackerland in the Finals, and in a stubbornly contested match overcame them. In the Semi-finals Kingsbury, Jr., and Hapgood made a game stand against Sutphin and Geddess, but after taking the first set they lost the last three.

In the Mixed Doubles Mr. Holton and Miss Hutchinson by superior team work finally won, after a stubborn fight with Mr. Walker and Miss Stillson. Both Miss Hutchinson and Miss Stillson are players of great promise.

ILLINOIS STATE TOURNAMENT.

Favored by the most ideal weather conditions imaginable for a tennis tournament, the fifth annual event of the Aztec Tennis Club of Chicago for the Illinois State Championship, was held on the beautiful turf courts of Chicago's northside club on July 13 and following days. From one Saturday to the other the week was cloudless, the temperature perfect, the courts fast, the galleries unusually large and the conditions as a whole the best ever seen in Chicago. The entries in the Singles numbered 64, while in the Doubles 22 teams started in the initial Round. In the women's events the list was not only exceptionally large, but the "classiest" of recent years as well. The interest in the event was greatly heightened by the appearance of Carr Neel, ex-Western Champion, and scores of people who watched Neel play back in the nineties, journeyed to the North Shore grounds to see their old idol play.

The event began on Saturday, July 13, with the courts in the best possible condition, a heavy steam roller having been kept constantly at work upon them during the week previous. The draw was highly satisfactory—the best players being well scattered. The first two rounds in the Singles tended merely to "weed out" the poorer players and few matches of interest were played,

The Men's Doubles brought out much good play and several surprises were scored. The first of these came in the Second Round, when Carr Neel and Kreigh Collins playing together, went down to defeat before McKeever and Champlin, a good team, but one hardly equal on form to be ranked with the Western Champions. In this match Collins' eyes early gave him trouble and he missed the easiest of shots and at times failed to hit the ball altogether, while Neel apparently discouraged by his partner's work also put up a ragged exhibition and his best efforts failed to avail much.

The women's events, attracted this year, one of the best entry lists ever recorded in a Western event and the play from the first to last was of an exceptionally high standard and was productive of many close and exciting matches. The feature, however, unquestionably came when Mrs. Robert Williams, a young woman player of the Aztec Club, met Miss Carrie B. Neely, fresh from her Eastern triumphs, in the Final Round. In this match the play of Mrs. Williams was a revelation to her most ardent admirers and yet no tennis player ever enjoyed greater popularity on the courts. She drove with the force of a man and her whole style of game was at once aggressive and cool.

But she lacked one thing—steadiness at critical stages—and this one element of weakness allowed Miss Neely to triumph over her after the closest of fights—the Final score being 8-6, 6-1. This victory allowed Miss Neely the right to challenge Miss Miriam Steever, the title holder, and as expected a battle-royal resulted. Three hard sets were necessary to determine the winner in this match, Miss Neely, however, finally winning out, 8-6, 3-6, 6-2. In the Women's Doubles Misses Neely and Steever proved victorious, defeating Mrs. Williams and Miss Lee in the Final Match, 6-0, 6-2.

OREGON STATE TOURNAMENT.

More than ordinary interest was displayed in Oregon tennis during 1907.

Three trophies which had been played for years were in danger of being captured permanently and the presence of several of the old-timers gave added interest to the contests.

There was speculation and strife of the healthy kind from start to finish and the season ended with more players, better tennis, and much more interest than ever before displayed.

The State Championship was played under the auspices of the Multnomah Amateur Athletic Club on Multnomah Field, July 23 to July 27.

Joe Tyler from Seattle won his way to the Finals without much trouble He was stopped for a time by Major A. Bethel, U. S. A., a twice winner of the Fisk trophy and had it not been that Bethel had been on shore less than a week after his trip from the Orient, the match would doubtless have proven a closer one. Brant Wickersham also made a strong bid without success.

This brought Tyler against Goss in the Championship Match. Goss also played in the Challenge Match in Doubles and here too was much interest since both competing teams had won the Ladd cups twice and the match was to decide permanent ownership.

The Double Match was played first and Goss and his partner were badly beaten so that when Goss went into the Single Match he probably felt somewhat down cast.

The Single Match was a very pretty display of high-class tennis and Goss made a good fight. The first set he took by perfectly controlling his game and by wonderful consistency. The second set was a continuation of the first and time after time Goss was within one stroke of this set He weakened perceptibly, however, and after many long rallies and heart-breaking situations, the set went to Tyler.

This ended the match for the last two sets went to Tyler comparatively easy.

These two men have met many times in tournament play and Tyler is the best man because he has always won. The scores have indicated practically a "Toss up" for in nearly every match the loser has been within one point of winning.

Tyler has more speed and plays in better form. He is younger and faster. To offset this Goss has better judgment and plays just the kind of game that upsets Tyler. May they soon meet again.

The Double Championship went to Wickersham and Bellinger and with it the J. Wessley Ladd cups to become the permanent property of the winners. Goss and Lewis, the veteran Oregon team who had also won the cups twice and the State Championship several times prior to the time when the cups were first presented for competition, were the runners-up and a great match was expected.

The match was great but with the greatness all on one side of the net. Goss and Lewis could not seem to get started. The day before they defeated Tyler and Armstrong who were looked upon as a better team than Wickersham and Bellinger.

In spite of the poor playing of Goss and Lewis too much cannot be said of the good work of the Champions. Their team work was far better than was expected and their speed was tremendous.

It is doubtful if any team in the northwest could have broken up the game played in the winning match by Wickersham and Bellinger.

The Ladies' Singles went to Miss Amy Heitshu and with it the Goss and Lewis cup, this also to be the permanent property of Miss Heitshu who had won it twice before.

There is no doubt as to the superiority of Miss Heitshu's game in Oregon and she went through the tournament without the loss of a set.

The Ladies' Doubles went to Miss Heitshu and Miss Josephi and the Mixed Doubles to Mr. Benham and Miss Leadbetter

The Consolations in Men's Singles went to J. F. Ewing and the Ladies' Consolations in Singles to Miss Fox.

The prizes were presented by Major Walter A. Bethel, U. S. A., and the tournament was rated the most successful yet held in Oregon.

Later in the season came the Irvington Tennis Club Championship and Handicap Tournament combined.

This last tournament ranked nearly if not quite as important as the State Championship. There was a very large entry list and better tennis was played than ever before in the state.

There is talk of a large invitation tournament to be given by one of the leading hotels at the beach this coming season and there is great hope that many of the Californians and the players in the northwest will attend.

MIDDLE WEST CHAMPIONSHIP AT OMAHA.

The seventh annual tournament for the Championship of the Middle West in Gentlemen's Singles was held as usual on the splendid courts of the Omaha Field Club the third week in August.

The entry list did not quite show the numbers as in the previous two years, yet sectionally speaking the states of the Middle West were better represented.

The entries came from Kansas, Missouri, Colorado, South Dakota, Illinois, Iowa and Nebraska.

The general public took a deep interest in the event, in fact on the day the Challenge Match was played many visitors came from other towns and states. Each afternoon, the large veranda and lawns were thronged with men and women, and on the final day, when C. C. Peters and W. T. Hayes met, the athletic field adjacent to the courts was crowded with automobiles, whose honk! honk! in unison with the applause after each brilliant play, gave the event much the appearance of a college foot ball game, and showed the great enthusiasm the game has roused in the Middle West.

The tournament was favored with fair weather except the opening day, there was a light shower in the afternoon, however, it did not delay the play to any speakable degree. Mr. Frederick J. Hill came from Minneapolis to again act as official referee, and great credit is due him for the manner with which events were pushed along.

From the standpoint of play, interest centered largely in the veteran Dr. Whitney, Champion of Colorado, who survived to the Final Round of the Singles, when he was put out by C. C. Peters. Dr. Whitney is 51 years of age; but he moves about the court with the fleetness of the youngest, he plays until the ball is absolutely dead, is game to the last, and what is perhaps the most remarkable of all never seems to tire. Peters worked his way through the lower half of the draw by defeating Radinger, Young, Blatherwick and Caldwell. This put him against Whitney in the Finals.

The man from Colorado made a good fight but finally went down to Peters, who, however, was unable to defeat Hayes in the Challenge Round and the beautiful Middle West Singles Cup goes to Hayes for "keeps" having won it three years.

Two years ago Hayes came from his home town in Toledo, Iowa, for what was practically his first appearance in tournament play, and surprised every one by the ease with which he carried everything before him. He was rugged and athletic, but his play lacked style. Since then he has developed and improved his game greatly, Peters and he having played together this year in all the tournaments all around the country. The first week in August Hayes won the Iowa Championship, while the week after Peters took the Tri-State at Sioux City. There was less interest in the Doubles this year owing to the absence of Kreigh Collins, Peters and Hayes playing together went through to the Finals without loosing a single set.

The players were royally entertained each evening and as a social event the seventh annual tournament surpassed its predecessors. The week was considered one of the biggest in the history of the Field Club, the house and grounds being crowded each afternoon and evening. This led to many dinner parties and entertainments both at the club and homes of the players. Special entertainments were also provided each evening.

HAROLD L. BEYER
Tennis Assoc. Winner Central Iowa Tournament

CENTRAL IOWA STATE TOURNAMENT.

The second annual tournament was held on the courts of the Toledo (Iowa) Lawn Tennis Club, July 10-13, 1907, and was productive of many close and interesting matches. Interest in this event is growing and a silver cup will probably be offered next year for the Singles Championship.

Dr. J. W. Cogswell of Toledo won his way to the Challenge Round in the Singles after closely contested matches with St. Clair, Kaufman and Blatherwick, each of whom took one set. The Challenge Round brought out some fast tennis. Harold L. Beyer of Grinnell, the winner of last year's tournament, won by three sets to one. Beyer's accuracy in playing and his effectiveness at the net were the deciding factors in this match, which attracted a good-sized and enthusiastic gallery.

The Doubles were captured by W. A. Kaufman and M. A. Trumbull of Conrad. Their playing throughout the tournament was characterized by steadiness and persistence, and these qualities in each match in which they participated were noteworthy. Their team work was excellent and their strokes were clean-cut and strong. This tournament has become a permanent annual event at Toledo, and every effort will be made to increase the number of entries in 1908.

NORTHEASTERN IOWA STATE TOURNAMENT.

The second annual tournament of the Northeastern Iowa Tennis Association was held on the courts of the Cresco (Iowa) Tennis Club August 28, 29 and 30, 1907. The success of this tournament was such that an annual meet is now assured.

The local club had entire control of a program of entertainment on which it cleared $1,000. Wm. J. Bryan, Gov. Cummins and Father McCorey were among the speakers and a high-class of artists entertained in the evenings in a tent erected for the occasion.

Thirty-eight players contested in the Singles and fifteen pairs in the Doubles.

INTER-MOUNTAIN STATE TOURNAMENT.

Salt Lake City, Utah.

The third annual tournament for the Championship of the Inter-Mountain States began August 24 and went over into the next week. In every way the tournament was the most successful ever held in Salt Lake City.

Forty-four entries in Men's Singles, and nineteen pairs in Doubles show the interest in the game in this part of the country. In the women's tournament fifteen entered in Singles, and nine pairs in Doubles.

In Men's Singles, Sam Neel, former National Champion in Doubles, carried off the honors, winning the tournament and Challenge Match without losing a set.

The largest gallery in the history of the game witnessed the final struggle when Sam Neel defeated Garnett in the Finals. Fully 500 people witnessed the play.

Neel won the first set rather easily. In the second set, however, he was compelled to show his best tennis. After 5-all was called, the game see-sawed until finally Neel, by an extra effort, won out. Garnett seemed to lose heart after this set, and Neel took the last one rather easily, by a score of 6-1.

O. J. Salisbury, Inter-Mountain Champion for 1906, met Neel on Tuesday, September 3, in a Challenge Round. The game was similar in many respects to the Final Match of the tournament. Salisbury made a great stand in the second set, but was finally beaten by the score of 11-9.

In the Men's Doubles, Brown and Badger won from Roberts and Myers in the Finals, the score being, 6-2, 6-3, 6-2. It was expected that Myers and Roberts would make a hard fight. Brown and Badger, however, played a careful and consistent game, and won in rather hollow fashion.

In the Ladies' Singles, Miss Kate Williams, for the third time in succession, won the honors. By her victory, this year, she wins possession of the beautiful trophy cup.

In the Women's Doubles, Miss Kate Williams and Miss Maude Thorne defeated Mrs. Griffin and Miss Lyons, in the Finals, the scores being 6-3 and 7-5.

MISSOURI VALLEY STATE TOURNAMENT.

The sixth annual Missouri Valley Tennis Championships were held at Kansas City, August 26 to 31 and attracted the largest entry in the history of the game in this section. The event was given under the auspices of the Kansas City Athletic Club and was played at their new athletic field, 32nd and Locust streets.

Although the courts were brand new, practically never having been played upon, they were in remarkably good condition throughout the tournament, while the weather man was unusually kind allowing but one slight shower during the entire week.

The entry list in the Singles numbered eighty-one in all, forty-five of whom were registered from points outside of Kansas City, which makes the tournament the largest affair of its kind held west of Chicago during the 1907 season. Players from Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma, Indian Territory, Iowa and Nebraska took part and were unanimous in declaring it easily the premier tennis event of the year for the Middle West. The one bit of disappointment in the whole tournament was that W. T. Hayes, holder of the Omaha Middle West Championship, and C. C. Peters, a Chicago crack, after entering were at the last moment prevented from attending.

Harold Hodge, of the Kansas City Athletic Club captured the Singles Championship after an heroic struggle through a long list of formidable opponents and finally defeating O. V. Vernon, of the same club, a three-time winner of the honor. The Doubles title went to A. E. Sterling and H. H. Brewster of the St. Joseph (Mo.) Lawn Tennis Club, who defeated J. S. Tritle and A. A. Hayes, of the K. C. A. C. in the Final Round, there being no Challenge Round as D. L. James, of James and Jones, the holders, was absent in Europe.

Saturday afternoon, August 31, in the presence of the largest gallery ever assembled in Kansas City to witness a tennis match, Hodge met and defeated O. V. Vernon for the Championship of the Missouri Valley.

The Singles Cup, known as the Guerney and Ware trophy, must be won three times to become permanent property. Mr. Vernon now has two legs on the cup and Mr. Hodge one.

The Doubles prizes, silver cups donated by the K. C. A. C., were put up this year and require two winnings.

MASSACHUSETTS DOUBLES TOURNAMENT.

The annual tournament for the Double Championship of Massachusetts was held at the Brae-Burn Country Club courts, West Newton, Mass., beginning May 30 and following days.

This tournament, like its predecessors, was a success both in the character of the play and the interest shown by the spectators. Probably the most pleasant feature in connection with the event was the general interest and enthusiasm shown, this being particularly noticeable by the entire absence of defaults. The courts upon which the matches were held are perhaps the best situated in the country. Steep banks form a natural amphitheatre and offer a vantage ground for a perfect view of the play below. The material of which the courts are made gives an ideal playing surface, and the eyes of the players are relieved from any disagreeable glare.

In the Challenge Round the Johnson Brothers defeated Irving Wright and Edgar Leonard after an exciting match. The play fell off at times, but there were other times when perfection of play was revealed, lightning-like strokes made and flashes of divination of opposing players play displayed. The win was accomplished by an unexpectedly stubborn defense, varied with an aggressive offense that finally broke up Wright and Leonard.

MISS SUTTON'S TRIPS ABROAD.

1905, 1906, 1907.

MISS May Sutton who has again become the world's Champion for the second time by defeating all the best English lady players, first visited England in 1905 winning all the leading tournaments before playing at Wimbledon where the Championship is played and winning the same without losing a set, defeating Miss Douglass for the honors. This alone was a remarkable feat.

She again went abroad in 1906, this time not being so successful as the English ladies were better prepared to meet her style of game. She lost to Miss Douglass at Wimbledon who regained the Championship.

In 1907 Miss Sutton very pluckily crossed the ocean once more to battle for her lost honors. During the early spring she practiced hard and improved her game, especially her back hand which went a great way toward winning back the Championship, as the English Champion played continually to this point. It was a battle royal as both players were at the top of their games, but Miss Sutton's strong forehand strokes were too accurate with plenty of speed and perfect control.

To win the English Championship for the second time was a great honor, as in doing so Miss Sutton had to defeat three of England's strongest women players, Miss Lowther, Miss Wilson and Mrs. Chambers (Miss D. K. Douglass). For such a remarkable record in a strange land Miss Sutton deserves the greatest praise. After the match the committee presented Miss Sutton with a huge bouquet of flowers. She was very popular and always under any conditions showed the best spirit.

Following are the matches played upon her 1907 visit:

Manchester—Final Round: Mrs. Sterry beat Miss Sutton, 7-5, 6-0. (Her only defeat.)

Beckenham—Final Round: Miss Sutton beat Miss Eastlake Smith, 6-0, 6-1. Challenge Round: Miss Sutton beat Mrs. Chambers, 6-2, 8-6.

Wimbledon—Women's Championship of England—Challenge Round: Miss Sutton beat Mrs. Chambers (holder), 6-1, 6-4.

Newport—Miss Sutton beat Miss Lowther, 6-0, 7-5, which ended her matches abroad.

Also won the Mixed Doubles at Wimbledon with Mr. Beals Wright as a partner, which is quite an event in English tennis.

MISS MAY G. SUTTON
The Champion

NATIONAL INDOOR CHAMPIONSHIP 1908.

GENTLEMEN.

THE ninth National Indoor Championship resulted in a remarkable success; of 55 entries in Singles only three defaults were recorded. The record for Singles was 40 made last year, a gain of 11 teams in Doubles on the previous record brought the total up to 27 teams. It is believed that the interest in the indoor game stimulated by the Woman's Championship held a week or so earlier, helped the men's tournament a great deal. In 1900 there were only 16 men entered in the Singles and about eight teams in Doubles; it certainly looks as if indoor tennis has come to stay.

In the Singles W. C. Grant achieved another triumph winning the Championship for the fourth time. Since 1902 Grant has been in the Finals every year, four times Champion and three times runner-up, seven straight years, a truly wonderful performance considering the first class men who have competed for the title. It fell to Calhoun Cragin who has met Grant many times on the 7th Regiment Courts to give him a battle royal. Cragin won the first set, 7-5, led 5-4, 30-love on the second, only to lose set 7-5 and the third set at love. A surprise to all was the defeat of W. F. Johnson by Wertheim. Johnson came from Philadelphia and entered the tournament without any practice whatever.

T. R. Pell lost his chance to have his name on the "7th Regiment Cup" for the second time, Grant defeating him, 4-6, 6-1, 6-2. Many people were surprised at this, but Grant following a comparatively easy victory over I. C. Wright the day before was right on his game.

Hackett and Alexander as usual annexed the Doubles for the third straight year without any more trouble than in 1907, when they did not lose a set. The hardest fought match in the whole tournament was when W. B. Cragin, Jr., and M. S. Charlock defeated Calhoun and A. S. Cragin, 12-10, 5-7, 6-4. The Cragin Bros. were five times within a point of the first set and one game in the second set went to advantage eighteen times before it was won. Cragin and Charlock got to the Finals, where Hackett and Alexander defeated them, 6-3, 6-1, 6-4, and they played a closer match than was expected.

LAWN TENNIS NOTES.

We have received many inquiries this spring regarding the playing for the Dwight Davis International bowl, which is now held by Australia. A few extracts from the regulations will, we hope, make matters clear as follows:

Any nation wishing to compete must inform the committee of the "Champion Nation" before the first Monday in March. Competing nations shall arrange among themselves for the playing of their respective "ties" or matches. If an agreement cannot be arrived at, the preliminary ties shall be played in the country of the "Champion Nation" at the time and date they see fit to select. Consequently this year if England and America cannot agree their "tie" must be played in Australia.

Players do foot fault, some more than others and in all countries, especially England, new rules are trying to be put in force, but the present rule seems to be the most satisfactory. R. F. Doherty suggested to only allow one service. This might be a success with the leading players, but would be fatal with poor players and women. There is little chance of there being any change from the present rule, this seems to be the general feeling with the players both in England and this country. They say the rule is good enough if only enforced. In other words, "it is up to the linesmen." Foot faults should only be called from the base line and not from the referee's chair as is the case in many small tournaments.

The Pacific States Association made a good move in having their Championship take place at Monterey (Hotel Del Monte), where the newly built courts are nicely situated with a good light, being an improvement over the old courts. The tournament of last year was one of the most successful ever held on the Pacific Coast and the Championship of the coming season of 1908 promises to be more so. It is hoped some of the best players from the East will be present to play in the tournament.

During the past summer the Omaha Field Club made a formal request to the National Association to have the Middle West tournament sanctioned as the "National Clay Court Championship," holding that the clay court is peculiar to, and practically universal in the West, while there is considerable difference between the play on grass and on clay, the change from one to the other not being readily made. Straight hard hitting and placing being the characteristics of clay court tennis, the game is more athletic and at the same time speed enough to require the very best judgment. The week allotted to the Omaha event coincides with the week of the National at Newport. For those who do not go to Newport, Omaha offers many advantages and there is no doubt that the prestige of a National Championship would do much for a greater interest and development of the game in the "Big West."

In answer to the above. The question of instituting a Clay Court Championship of the United States came up at the February meeting of the United States National Lawn Tennis Association and a discussion brought forth the following motion: That the secretary be instructed to write to the Omaha Field Club and others which have asked for clay court events that the National Association is not in favor of the institution of such a Championship.

The Eastern Canadian Open Championship, to be held at Ottawa June 10 and following days, is a new Championship for Canada, and without doubt will be a great success. The events will be Men's Singles and Doubles, Women's Singles and Doubles and probably Mixed Doubles. Ottawa is the home of the Canadian Champion, J. F. Foulkes.

The Guide regrets to announce that the Wentworth tournament has been given up, this was one of the oldest tournaments, being held at Newcastle, N. H., for the past twenty-five years, and the tournament where a majority of our best players started out to become future Champions.

The Newport Casino committee are to be congratulated and thanked for the trouble they took and money expended to produce good courts and surroundings. Some players, we regret to say, do not appreciate the advantage of excellent dressing rooms and full privileges of the Casino. It will be still better this season.

It is most pleasing to see the interest that the women are taking in the game. In a few years this is sure to produce good results; then we can consider a women's international event.

The ranking committee deserve nothing but praise for their results. It is a tiresome, thankless undertaking and they should be congratulated.

It may be of interest to our readers to know that our present Champion, W. A. Larned, has won the famous Longwood tournament nine out of the sixteen years it has taken place.

In a letter to the United States National Lawn Tennis Association the women players of the United States have asked to be ranked, which no doubt will be done.

The past three or four years a great interest has grown with the women players of this country in tournament play and they should be encouraged in every way by our men players. Mixed Doubles should be played more in our tournaments, it is quite a feature in all the English tournaments.

The committee of the United States National Lawn Tennis Association who have matters in hand concerning the Davis Cup and the Olympic games has voted that the Association shall take no part in the Olympic games officially.

"The American Lawn Tennis," the official paper of the Association has run for one year and a more attractive and interesting paper could not have been placed before the tennis players and the clubs, and those interested in the games should give it their hearty support by sending their subscription to S. W. Merrihew, 402 Times Building, Times Square, New York City.

The promising young player Maurice McLaughlin, Champion of the Pacific Coast, has shown a fine record for the past season in winning the Pacific States Championships, Singles and Doubles, as well as San Francisco and the Bay Counties. If he keeps up his good play he should have a high ranking for the season of 1908.

One of the first tournaments of the season is played on the courts of the Coronado Country Club, Coronado Beach, Cal., February 19, where the players have a very enjoyable week's tennis. Miss May Sutton won the Ladies' Singles, T. C. Bundy the Men's Singles and Mrs. Bruce and Bundy the Mixed Doubles.

The tennis men in general dress much more attractively on the court than they did a few years ago, when it was common for them to wear soiled trousers, shirts without collars, and frayed sleeves. One should be even more particular with dress on the court than on the street as they are more conspicuous and playing before ladies.

The West Side Tennis Club, New York, will hold its next Metropolitan Championship on dirt, but in 1909 and the following years, it will probably hold its Championships on its grass courts near Van Courtland Park. It will not, however, give up its present grounds, and intends to run both the old and new courts at the same time, and will put up a commodious club-house at the new grounds.

It is most peculiar, yet nothing less than hard luck that in 1906 Clothier should win the Championship after Wright had been in the hospital all summer, and in 1907 that Clothier was unable to defend his title owing to an injured knee.

Last spring an indoor invitation Men's Double and Mixed Double event was held in the St. Nicholas rink, New York, for the second time and proved a great success. The admission was entirely by invitation and all the matches were well attended, everybody being very much interested. For the success of this event the work of Mrs. Barger-Wallach was greatly appreciated as the entire tournament was run with as much care as a national event.

From all reports the tennis on the Pacific Coast is increasing, consequently the standard of play must be. The Coast should send a Doubles team East to compete in the Championship, then all sections would be represented. Let us hope for this in 1909.

Last summer Von Wessel, the crack German player, expressed his opinion of visiting America this summer. He will be well received and show a style similar to that of Behr.

Brookes has returned to Australia with a record to be proud of as a singles player. Wilding has been playing in Southern France the past winter.

Among our promising younger players are Niles and Dabney, who are undergraduates at Harvard, Sweetzer, Mathey and Johnson, freshmen at Harvard, Princeton and University of Pennsylvania, McLaughlin and Long of California, Ross of Chicago, Hayes of the Middle West, Thornton and Cowan Rodgers of the South and Tyler of the Northwest. All these players have shown good form and played with success during 1907 and if they continue, in a few years should rank among the first ten players of this country.

Tennis courts are being put in almost all the armories of the big cities and with great success. This will promote indoor play and it is hoped that in the United States the leading players will soon enter the indoor Championships. In England they receive practically the same list of entries for covered court Championships as they do for outdoor.

In England, at some of the large tournaments they have a veteran's event, open to men of fifty and over and for every five years a handicap must be given. There are two veterans sixty-five and seventy-five years old respectively, who play annually in the Eastbourne tournament. Our association will no doubt soon come to this, although it seems unnecessary in two cases. D. D. McLaughlin of Butte, Montana, won the State Championship in 1906 and 1907, competing against some good men. Mr. McLaughlin is fifty-five years old. Again we find that Dr. Whitney, who is fifty-one years old, is Champion of Colorado and reached the Finals in the Middle West Championship.

The Queens Club, London, is without doubt the leading club of its kind. The grounds are large and some fifty perfect grass courts could be laid out. Many Championships are held there and on the two wood or covered courts the indoor Championship always takes place. In addition there are squash, racquet and court tennis courts. For each sport there is a capable professional to instruct the novice; in lawn tennis, H. Cowdrey, and Peter Latham in tennis and racquets.

During tbe past year the Lawn Tennis ranks have been thinned out by deaths of the following lovers and supporters of the game:

George DeCamp of the Cincinnati Tennis Club died last spring from a severe cold he caught, which brought death in a very short time from pneumonia. He was secretary of the club and it was through him that the great interest was brought about in the game in Cincinnati. George, as they all called him, was a general favorite with the members of his club and those interested in the game.

Edward P. Rapelyea, of Elmira, N. Y., died suddenly of pneumonia last December, after an illness of only a few days.

In the passing away of Mr. Rapelyea, lawn tennis in New York state suffers a severe loss. He was secretary and one of the leading spirits of the Elmira Tennis Club, and his interest in the game was very keen.

Frederick J. Sheridan, reporter for the Boston Herald, died at his home, Brighton, Mass., last February.

Mr. Sheridan had reported all of the national tennis tournaments for the Herald since 1890. He was generally acknowledged to be the ablest writer on tennis in America. He knew personally all of the better players who have figured in the game in the past 18 years. He was sent to England by his paper upon the visit of the first International team and his accounts of the matches were read with interest by tennis public.

HOW TO MAKE A LAWN TENNIS COURT

In making a Lawn Tennis Court there should be, if possible, a clear margin of at least 12 feet on each side and 21 feet at each end of the court, or, between adjacent courts, 18 feet on each side; but should the courts be placed end to end, or end to side, there should be spaces of 42 feet or 33 feet respectively, and a back-net at least 8 feet high between.

The cheapest and most easy court to make is a

Clay Court

It is done by removing the sward from the lawn, taking care that the same is cut deep enough not to allow any of the grass roots to remain; there should be a space dug out 118 feet by 56 and about 6 or ten inches deep, fill in with yellow clay and cover with ½-inch of carefully sifted binding gravel, taking out all small stones to the size of a pea, wet well and roll into the foundation of clay, if the court continues to be soft or sticky spread more binding gravel over it, and continue to roll until the clay and gravel commences to bind and becomes firm. The maker of the court will have to use his own best judgment about this, as it's hard to decide the exact quantities of clay and binding gravel that should be used to cause the court to have the proper firmness.

In making the court there should be a gradual slope from the base lines to the centre, running across the court between the net posts should be built a blind drain, this is done to take off the water after a heavy rain.

A stone foundation is bad for a court as it becomes hard and dry and severe on a player's feet and legs to play on.

Grass Courts

These can be made in three ways: namely, first, by improving an existing stretch of turf until it is level and smooth enough, second by leveling the ground, preparing the soil, and sowing grass seeds; and third, by laying fresh turf. Of these the former is of course the simplest; but as the requisite piece of grass land is rarely available, particulars for preparing it are seldom required. In improving such a piece of turf care should be taken to remove all weeds or coarse grasses, and to freely use the spirit-level. To raise hollow places the turf should be cut out, lifted, and fine soil placed underneath until the proper height has been obtained, when the turf should be replaced and well beaten down with the flat side of a spade. On the other hand, small mounds should be removed by taking the soil away from under the grass, some fine mould being placed underneath the turf before it is replaced. To prepare a court for sowing seeds the same instructions may be followed as for making a turf-laid one, except that the seed will be sown instead of the turfs laid. Take care that the seed is good by purchasing from a first-class seedsman, and, when ordering, it will be well to state what sort of soil is to be sown. By far the larger number of courts are made by laying fresh turfs.

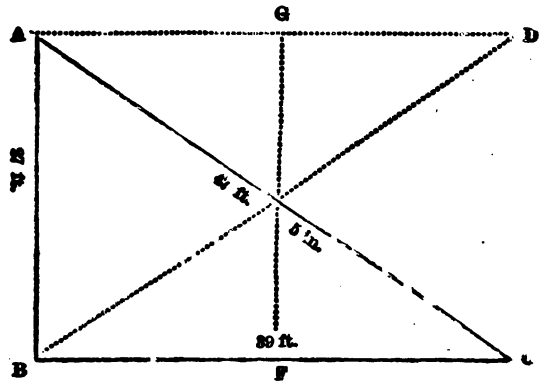
When preparing the ground for a court, it is desired to level a portion measuring 100 x 50 feet, which allows an ample margin; but for the playing portion itself only 78 x 36 feet is necessary. If economy must be strictly considered only the latter need be carefully prepared, but it is better to have the whole done if possible.

HOW TO MARK OUT A COURT



As a double court practically includes every line to be found in a single court, it is best to take first the measure for the latter. Having determined the position of your net, plant in the ground, in the line chosen, two pegs, 27 feet apart (at the points A and B in the diagram). Then take two measures and attach their respective ends to the pegs A and B. On the first, which will measure the diagonal of the court, take a length of 47 ft. 5 in.; on the other 39 ft.; pull both taut in such directions that at these distances they meet in a point C. This will give one corner of the court. At that point F, 21 feet from B, put in a peg to mark the end of the service-line. The other corner, D, and the other end of the service-line G, may be found by interchanging the measures and repeating the process. The same measurements on the other side of the net will complete the exterior boundaries of the court. By prolonging the base-line 4 ft. 6 in. in each direction, and joining the four new points thus obtained, we can make the side-lines of a double court. It only remains to mark the central line. This is done by joining the middle points of the service-lines. If a double court alone be required, the interior side-lines need not be prolonged to meet the base-lines. Remember that in all cases the net-posts must stand at a distance of three feet from the side-lines.

DIAGRAM OF SINGLE AND DOUBLE COURT.

For a court where a single or double game can be played, the size is 78 feet in length by 36 in width, 4½ feet inside the side lines, and parallel with them are drawn the service lines. See diagram above.

The Ward & Wright Racket

THIS racket has been made according to the special instructions given by Beals C. Wright and Holcombe Ward, former Champions of the United States in singles and doubles. The Ward & Wright Racket has been modeled on lines for the most modern style of play, and the phenomenal success of the racket during the past three seasons is most gratifying.

Scientifically, the Ward & Wright is the strongest racket made. It will stand restringing better than any other style racket. The frame is made of specially selected ash. The gut used in stringing is the best imported, noted for its life and driving qualities.

When Ordering Kindly State the Weight and Style—A or B—Desired

Style A
With Extra Center Strings

Each $8.00

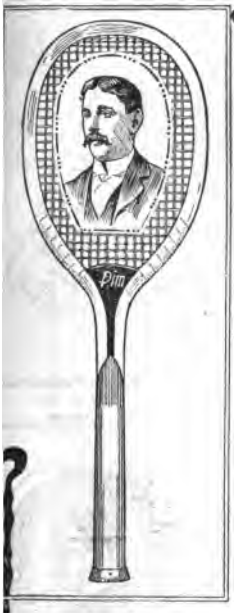
Style B
Regular Stringing

The Ward & Wright Racket is made in two styles of stringing. Style A, containing extra center strings, which has become very popular with a great many players, especially ground stroke players, and style B without the extra center strings, making it less rigid, and consequently better for volleying.

The Ward & Wright Racket is made in weights from 13 to 15 Ounces

For players who like an extra large handle Ward & Wright we have them in weights 14, 14 1-4, 14 1-2, and 15 ounces only.

We play tennis; are in constant touch with every player of note; the best players permit us to make and name Rackets after their models, and it ought to be plain why the Wright & Ditson Rackets are the most practicable. It pays to get the best.

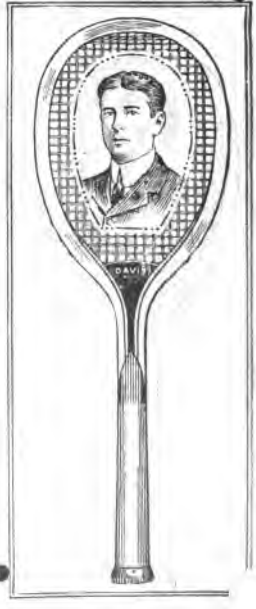


The PIM Racket

THE PIM RACKET, next to the Ward & Wright, is recognized as the leading racket of the country. Nearly all players of note, both men and women, have used the Pim, from which they obtained remarkable results. The frame is made of lively ash, noted for its driving qualities, and is bound with light but strong tape near the throat, which does not interfere with the natural spring in the wood, to give it extra strength, and is strung with the very best English gut of standard size by special artists in this line of work who have gained their experience by many years of service in our factory. The Pim is made only in weights ranging from 13 to 15 ounces.

No. 0. Each. $8.00

For players who like an extra large handle Pim we have them in weights 14, 14 1-4, 14 1-2 and 15 ounces



The Davis Racket

THIS RACKET is made similar to the Pim as regards the length and width of frame, the difference being in the dimensions of frame on either side of throat, which is made larger by the addition of an extra piece of wood glued firmly to the frame to strengthen it at that point. It was designed especially for Mr. Dwight Davis, the well known tennis expert. Its specific qualities are maximum strength at points where all rackets are the weakest, fine balance and hard driving power. Made only in weights ranging from 12½, 14, 14½ and 15 ounces. Owing to its extremely fine balance, a player can safely use it from one-half to three-quarters of an ounce heavier than any other model.

Each $8.00

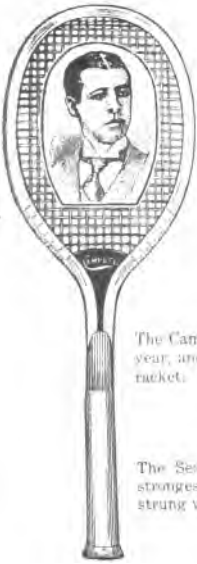
The "SUTTON" RACKET

Each $8.00

Made in Weights from 12 to 13½ ounces



THE "SUTTON" RACKET is named after the Lady Champion of the world, with her approval, as mentioned in her letter printed on this page. Used by Miss Sutton in all her championship matches.

Championship Canvas Center Strap

This is a new device for holding center of net at regulation height, 3 feet, and is vastly superior to the ordinary center iron. The court is 78 feet long and 27 feet wide. It is divided across the middle by a net, the ends of which are attached to two posts, A and B, standing three feet outside of the court on either side. The height of the net is three feet 6 inches at the posts and three feet in the middle. At each end of the court, parallel with the net, and 39 feet from it, are drawn the base lines, D E and F G, the ends of which are connected by the side lines D F and E G. Half way between the side lines and parallel with them, is drawn the half court I H, dividing the space on either side of the net into two equal parts, the right and left courts. On each side the net, at a distance of twenty-one feet from it, and parallel with it, are drawn the service lines, K L and M N.
